

NEW TEACHERS NAMED FOR ATLANTA SCHOOLS

The following teachers were elected to the Atlanta school system by the Atlanta board of education at its August session Tuesday afternoon: Junior and senior high schools: Beatrice Dobbins, J. C. Rens, Mrs. S. T. Esque, J. L. Kidd, Miss Vera Atkins, V. C. Kuepper, Charles H.

Kicklighter, E. B. Harshbarger, Florris J. Mack.

Elementary schools: Miss Betty Miller, Miss Frances Williamson, Miss Irene Alter, Mrs. Lillian J. Hodge, Miss Helen O. Wilson, Miss Ione Thompson, Mrs. William Jerry Cox, Miss Leila L. Hall, Mrs. Albert L. Martin, Miss Elizabeth Wallace, Miss Sophie L. Meakin, Mrs. Mary S. Howard.

Miss Evelyn Linch and Miss Louise Bennett were transferred from the elementary schools to teach in junior high schools.

The following resignations from the junior and senior high schools were accepted: Miss Janet Harris, Charles Crooshank, R. L. Cousins, Miss Allison Blodgett, Thomas Jungck, Miss Emily Roberts, J. Hornback.

Kathy Tyree Moore was given a leave of absence from the high schools and the following were granted leaves of absence from the elementary schools:

Sterling Price, Mrs. Inn Bechtell, Mrs. Velma Russell, Mrs. O. Bledsoe, Mrs. M. D. Dowskin, E. G. Smith and Louis E. Roberts.

The following resignations of elementary teachers were accepted:

Miss Elizabeth Kimbrough, Miss Lottie Geffen, Mrs. Eva K. Evans, Mrs. J. A. Blackshear.

811 Chairs Bought For School System

Members of the Atlanta board of education Tuesday night voted to purchase 811 open chairs at $1.54 each from Clinton & Webb, the equipment to be stored and used as the board and administration deem advisable.

The streets committee of council will be asked to repair the sidewalks at the former school, under a resolution introduced Tuesday by the board. The measure was offered by the buildings and grounds committee, headed by Commissioner William C. Slatte, of the second ward.

Improved heating facilities for the East Lake school are contemplated under a resolution passed by the board authorizing use of an iron boiler at the Lake Street school, with Councilman H. M. Rantin, of the 12th ward, successful in obtaining about $2,000 from the city treasury with which to purchase radiators.

A total of 33 Braille type books for use of blind students of the school system also was authorized.

McLendon Committee To Meet Again Today

The councilmanic committee probing charges against Councilman W. Chester McLendon, of the second ward, will resume its hearing at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall.

One of the principal witnesses at the two former sessions of this committee, recalled to testify in its effort to iron out discrepancies between his testimony and that of Acting Mayor G. Everett Millican.

Victim Seeks $75,000 Damages for Crash

A suit asking $75,000 damages from F. E. Morris for injuries received in an automobile accident on June 20 at Third street and West Peachtree was filed Tuesday in Fulton Superior court by J. L. Green, 27. The plaintiff alleges that as a result of Morris running into his car he suffered a fracture of the skull, a fracture of the left leg, and was unconscious for more than a month. The petition was filed by Reuben R. and Lowry Arnold and B. P. Gambrell.

$50,000 Is Asked For Death of Husband

Fifty thousand dollars damages for the death of her husband in an automobile accident on January 4 are sought in a suit filed Tuesday in city court of Atlanta by Mrs. Martin Truett against S. Clay as receiver of the Inter-City Coach Lines, Inc. The petition, filed by Attorney Judith Andrews, charges that a bus of the defendant tried to pass her husband's automobile near East Point, side-swiped the machine and knocked it onto the street car tracks, where Truett was run over and killed by a trolley car.

W. Peachtree Opening Is Set for October 1

Completion of the widening and repaving of West Peachtree street from Peachtree place to the junction of West Peachtree and Peachtree by October 1, was forecast Tuesday by Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction.

The work is being done under the direction of the county public works committee headed by Walter B. Stewart, Fulton county commissioner.

Perry Strongest of Holder's Opponents

JAMES A. PERRY,
Candidate for Governor in the interest of the whole people.

"We may be wrong but as we see it, unless James A. Perry beats John Holder for Governor, Holder will be elected. Russell is not strong except within a few counties in North Georgia. Carswell is depending almost entirely on Central and South Georgia. Rivers is also depending, it seems, on the same territory, and the truth about the election, as we see it, is that Perry is the strongest of all the four candidates that are opposing Holder. Perry is also gaining strength each week." —Oglethorpe Citizen.

"The people of Clinch County should have an easy head James A. Perry's speech at the courthouse last night. This candidate for Governor, with 16 years of experience, is the only one who speaks. No matter who one may vote for Governor this year he will have to admit that Perry is a man of unusual ability and backbone and qualifications." —Homerville News.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as a legislator and later as a member of the public service commission. If one hears him talk, one is easily convinced that he is a strong man, above the average in ordinary politics and undoubtedly the most practical minded man of the entire coterie of candidates in the present Governor's race." —Statesboro Times.

"Mr. Perry is a good campaigner, a man of pleasing personality and qualified to discuss intelligently the things he attempts to discuss. For three years Mr. Perry has been in public life, first as

Jarris Defends His Record, Terms Slaton a 'Do Nothing'

Slaton Attacks Senator With "Deliberate and Wilful Deception" in His Campaign.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Speaking from opposite ends of the state, John M. Slaton and Senator William J. Harris, Tuesday continued their campaigns for the nomination of United States senator.

Senator Harris, in Clarkesville, Habersham county, in north Georgia, defended his record, but referred to Mr. Slaton as a "do nothing" while holding public office. He charged that aid lieutenants of Slaton have covered the state, "asserting repeatedly that money would not stand in the way of Slaton's election to the Senate. 'But the money of no man can chase and debase and purchase white votes in this state,' Mr. Harris said.

In Camilla, Mitchell county, south Georgia, ex-Governor Slaton charged his senior with deliberate and wilful deception, declaring that he was circulating a reprint of the Congressional Record "under his frank, to void paying postage" containing a eulogy of Senator Harris' written, Slaton charged, by himself. He also criticized Senator Harris relative to arbitration.

The candidates for governor disagreed a bit from discussion of finances, one of them at least taking advantage of an opportunity to discuss the age question.

Richard B. Russell, Jr., in a speech at Chattooga, said that his opponents continue to make my age an issue, and have designated him "the school-boy candidate."

"Well," said Russell, "I confess that I have carried my school books before every audience I have addressed and exposed the outrageous graft extracted from Georgia parents each year by the book trust."

Other candidates were active. E. D. Rivers, in Macon Tuesday night, declaring that the "Hardman-Carswell ring" was "seeking to make serfs and peons of free Georgia citizens."

George H. Carswell discussed the debts of the state at Ashburn, declaring that their payment was the chief issue in the campaign.

"It does not matter how much the other candidates try to baffle the subject, the main issue and the one that will be paramount with me during the remainder of the campaign will be that of the best method to solve the state's financial difficulties," Mr. Carswell said. He also spoke at Dalton and Ellijay. At the latter place he said that Georgia merchants need not fear any increases in taxes if they will rally to my plan" of allocating one year's collections from automobile tag sales to the state's debts.

Details of Rivers' Plan.

In a recent issue of The Constitution, in referring to the plan submitted by former State Senator E. D. Rivers for the settling of the state's financial crisis, it was stated that the former legislator advocated authorizing the governor to borrow the amount needed to be repaid from the income received from the new income and sales taxes.

This was inaccurate, as Mr. Rivers had stated his belief that the loan could easily be repaid from the savings of $1,000,000 per year accomplished by the reduction in departmental, board and bureau and the reduction of salaries paid in these departments to employees.

Former Ballots Mailed.

Mrs. Bessie Anderson, secretary of the state democratic executive committee, Tuesday began to mail out the official formal ballots for use in the state's primary election on Sept. 9. Each county will prepare its own ballots from the forms received from the state committee, adding the names of the candidates for local offices.

Harris recharged Slaton with lobbying against "proposed acts providing means for carrying on state insurance, the payment of record to Confederate soldiers and widows, and the all-excessive salaries of overworked teachers in the common schools of Georgia."

Mr. Slaton "knows he cannot deny the well-known fact that not once, but many, many times, he has appeared to obstruct and defeat the interests of the common people of Georgia," he said, "using what ability he has and the power and influence back of him to take care of his pet interests in legislation affecting the progress and highest interests of the common people of Georgia."

Holder Speaks in Atlanta.

According to announcement from the headquarters of John N. Holder, candidate for governor, he will address the Atlanta Motor Club next Friday. Other speaking dates are

MYERS-DICKSON

GOOD NEWS!

GOOD NEWS!
here comes your supply

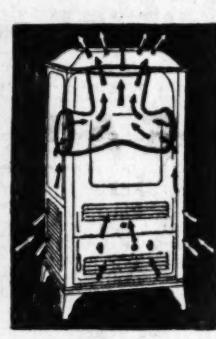

OF

FREE COAL

JOIN our annual Heatrola Free Coal Club now and soon you'll hear a coal truck chugging in your direction with a supply of fuel that won't cost you a cent! And you'll have a house-heating Heatrola, instead of a room-heating old stove, to start the Winter with.

A $2.00 deposit enrolls you. After that you pay only $2.00 a week until we install your genuine Heatrola and deliver your ton of Free Coal. (A half-ton if you choose the Heatrola Junior.) Then you can begin paying the balance on our convenient monthly payment plan.

Remember—this offer is limited. After August 30th, no more Free Coal this year. So stop in, or telephone and invite us to call at your home.

Intensi-Fire
Air Duct

— the wonderful heat-maker and fuel-saver found only in the genuine Estate
Heatrola.

MYERS-DICKSON FURNITURE COMPANY
154-156 WHITEHALL, S. W.

Exclusive Atlanta Dealers for the Genuine
Estate HEATROLA

There is only one Heatrola—Estate builds it

Now Comes Cuticura Shaving Cream

A New Cuticura
Product

MEN who like a smooth, agreeable shave should try it. Containing, in a modified form, the emollient properties of Cuticura, it makes shaving easy and at the same time is soothing and cooling. It leaves the skin fresh and clear, free from any tense dry feeling.

Sells for 35c. a tube.

Sold by druggists or mailed on receipt of price, by Potter Drug & Chemical Corporation, Sole Proprietors
Malden, Mass.

announced were for Cleveland on Thursday and Douglasville on Saturday.

Wilson on Schools.
In a reply to a letter from Alie Mann, chairman of the education committee of the Georgia Federation of Labor, John Wilson, one of the candidates for secretary of state, Tuesday wrote:

"Answering your questions, first, there should never be any priority given the other candidates to hold the subject, the main issue and the one that will be paramount with me during the remainder of the campaign will be that of the best method to solve the state's financial difficulties."

Mr. Carson said: "He also spoke at Dalton and Ellijay. At the latter place he said that Georgia merchants need not fear any increases in taxes if they will rally to my plan" of allocating one year's collections from automobile tag sales to the state's debts.

Details of Rivers' Plan.

In a recent issue of The Constitution, in referring to the plan submitted by former State Senator E. D. Rivers for the settling of the state's financial crisis, it was stated that the former legislator advocated authorizing the governor to borrow the amount needed to be repaid from the income received from the new income and sales taxes.

This was inaccurate, as Mr. Rivers had stated his belief that the loan could easily be repaid from the savings of $1,000,000 per year accomplished by the reduction in departmental, board and bureau and the reduction of salaries paid in these departments to employees.

Former Ballots Mailed.
Mrs. Bessie Anderson, secretary of the state democratic executive committee, Tuesday began to mail out the official formal ballots for use in the state's primary election on Sept. 9. Each county will prepare its own ballots from the forms received from the state committee, adding the names of the candidates for local offices.

Harris recharged Slaton with lobbying against "proposed acts providing means for carrying on state insurance, the payment of record to Confederate soldiers and widows, and the all-excessive salaries of overworked teachers in the common schools of Georgia."

Mr. Slaton "knows he cannot deny the well-known fact that not once, but many, many times, he has appeared to obstruct and defeat the interests of the common people of Georgia," he said, "using what ability he has and the power and influence back of him to take care of his pet interests in legislation affecting the progress and highest interests of the common people of Georgia."

Holder Speaks in Atlanta.

According to announcement from the headquarters of John N. Holder, candidate for governor, he will address the Atlanta Motor Club next Friday. Other speaking dates are

Criticises Business Ability of Harris

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Aug. 12.—(Special)—"If business ability is a qualification for a United States senator ought to be held in high esteem. He fails short of the requirements of the office," it was declared here tonight by former Governor John M. Slaton, who is opposing the senator for reelection, in an address delivered to an audience in the Thomas county courthouse, and broadcast by radio over the Thomas station, WQX.

"His one and only business structure, a fire insurance company, was a dismal failure. He came to me, while I was governor and asked me to give his company the fire insurance on the state sanitarium for the insane at Milledgeville. If he couldn't have it all, he asked me to give him a large share of it, several hundred thousand dollars."

"I frankly told him it would not be safe to place so much of the risk with a company no longer than his. I pointed out to him that if the sanitarium should burn, it would swamp his company to pay its share of the loss, besides bringing upon me the most severe and merited public censure.

"My attitude in the matter seemed to displease Senator Harris (he was then state senator), but my judgment was vindicated by the fact that his company no longer after he was in the hands of a receiver, and the friend he had induced to take stock in it suffered heavy losses."

Prior to his address here, Governor Slaton spoke earlier in the day at Camilla, in the Mitchell county courthouse, and in the afternoon at Pelham.

Carswell Says Issue Too Hot for Opponents

ROCHELLE, Ga., Aug. 12.—(Special)—"The merchants of Georgia need not fear any increases in taxes if they will rally to my plan to pay the state's debts with the income received one year from the sale of automobile tags," George H. Carswell, candidate for governor, declared here today in a speech to Wilcox county citizens.

He said that no increase in taxes should be necessary if his plan to pay the teachers, veterans and institutions is adopted.

Mr. Carswell stated that this issue had already been dropped like a "hot brick" by the other candidates, and that he had been compelled to abandon their own plans as announced several days ago. "Just watch it," he said. "You will hear no further reference to the sale of any state property for this purpose, and one by one, they will edge off from the project. I shall continue to advocate the tax tag diversion, as the response that this suggestion has received has been enthusiastic."

"The other candidates are talking about various reforms in governmental affairs, and yet they have all failed to get general assent, and could and could have brought about, or attempted to bring about, the very reforms they are crying so loudly about now."

SUMTER COUNTY HEARS CARSWELL SPEAK.

AMERICUS, Ga., Aug. 12.—George H. Carswell spoke in the Sumter county court house at Americus Tuesday night. He was introduced by W. D. Rivers, his attorney, who briefly eulogized Carswell and asserted he believed Carswell would be Georgia's next governor. Carswell spoke about an hour, the text of his address following the general line of previous speeches made by him in other counties.

Rivers Declares War on Combines

MACON, Ga., Aug. 12.—(Special)—Presided by the chairman, he opened and backed by a platform of prominent citizens supporting his candidacy for Governor, Ed Rivers tonight delivered an address at the Macon auditorium in which he vigorously assailed the "Hardman-Carswell succession" and made an impassioned attack upon the combines and monopolies "now seeking to make serfs and peons of free Georgia citizens."

Rivers said he had exposed the hand of special interests who are financing the fiscal surveys now in progress and charged the "interests and the Hardman-Carswell ring" with a pernicious attempt to force the merchants of the state, and ultimate-

Major-General Duncan, 82d

COMMANDER AT MEUSE-ARGONNE TO ATTEND REUNION

Leader, To Greet Troops

Major-General George B. Duncan, who commanded the eighty-second division during the hot Meuse-Argonne campaign, will be a guest of honor in Atlanta during the first homecoming reunion of the old Camp Gordon division, September 26 to 28, it was announced Tuesday by officers of the division, who are arranging for the reunion. He will be accompanied, it was written, by Mrs. Duncan.

"I am unalterably opposed to commercial combines leading to monopolies which cut prices paid our farmers below production costs," he said. "Illegal combine dropped the bottom out of the watermelon and other market gardens and we are now impoverishing our tobacco growers. Combinations of wealth and power are endeavoring to make serfs and peasants of our farmers. There is a law on the statute books of Georgia prohibiting such combines. I promise people here tonight that we will not be first to give in if we are faced with enough nerve to invoke this law and give our people the protection this law intended."

Russell Waxes Warm Over Age

CHATSWORTH, Ga., Aug. 12.—(Special)—Senator William J. Harris addressed an audience in the courthouse here, reviewing his record of service for the 12 years he has been in the Senate.

"My opponents continue to make my age an issue—only at long range," Mr. Russell said.

"I am well beyond the age required by the constitution of Georgia," Mr. Russell declared. "I was old enough 12 years ago to serve my country in the World War. Many of my friends who served in the war and died in France for their country died in the service of the trench in the stench and horrors of the trench in France. As these men look down from the Valhalla of true patriots they must view with extreme disgust the politicians of Georgia who seek to unmask the yardstick of age to one who seeks to serve his people in time of peace."

The speaker stressed the need of economy in governmental expenditures.

Williams New Head Of Theater Owners

NAT M. WILLIAMS, of Thomasville, was elected president of the Southeastern Theater Owners' Association at the closing session of the annual convention held here Monday and Tuesday.

A brief executive session was held Tuesday morning.

Other officers elected included O. C. Lam, of Rome, vice president, and Leon B. Harrell, Atlanta, secretary-treasurer.

New directors for the association were chosen as follows:

E. P. Boyd; Adel: W. J. Braden, Bainbridge; Alpha Fowler, Douglasville; A. C. Gortatowsky, Albany; Mrs. W. M. Kimsbrough, Greensboro; Ray E. Martin, Columbus; J. J. Powell, Atlanta; W. B. Wilbur, Atlanta; G. L. Ricker, Fitzgerald; Sam Borinsky, Chatsworth; Milton Starr, Nashville, Tenn.; Thomas E. Orr, Guntersville, Ala.; Max Jackson, Alexander City, Fla.; Mitchell Wolfson, Miami; M. G. Lee, Cuthbert, and B. S. Donon, Chipley.

Candidates Invited To Union Meeting

Candidates for the state legislature from Fulton county have been invited to address members of the City and County Public Service Employees' Union No. 17212, at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the Labor temple, Fred Stephens, president, will preside.

Decidedly the 1930 legislature probably will deal with legislation of vital importance to city and county employees, a large attendance is expected.

In France

Against 87 cars from every country, Hudson's Great Eight made a perfect score in the 9-Day Tour de France, most who gave the soldiers such a hearty welcome and farewell in those days will contribute generously to entertain them in September," said Captain Candler. "Our budget calls for $15,000 for entertainment purposes and we have no doubt it will be quickly subscribed."

Suspect Is Charged With Metal Robbery

TWO BURGLARIES VISITS TO THE RURAL PRESS AND THEFT OF 300 POUNDS OF LINOTYPE METAL WERE CHARGED TUESDAY against Wilbur Douglas in indictments returned by the Fulton county grand jury. One visit was on August 6, when the type metal was stolen, and the other was two days later, the true bills allege.

NEW YORK . . . $31.00

PHILADELPHIA . . . 27.00

BALTIMORE . . . 22.75

WASHINGTON . . . 21.00

ROUND TRIP, AUGUST 16.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

—(ad.)

You can smoke JOHN RUSKINS all day long and enjoy every puff without the slightest harm to your throat because JOHN RUSKINS are Very Mild and Delightfully Fragrant.

Atlanta business houses profited immensely by the proximity of Camp Gordon, but when the camp was disbanded, the supplies were furnished the camp and many thousands of dollars were expended in the city by officers and men.

"We feel confident that Atlanta,

Save the Coupon Band!

It's Valuable. Write for Premium Catalog.

Was 8¢ Now 5¢

THEY'RE VERY MILD

L. Lewis Cigar Mfg. Co., Newark, N. J.

Largest independent cigar factory in the world.

The Capital City Tobacco Co. Distributors—Atlanta.

Today's RADIO PROGRAMS

On Atlanta's Locals

336.9 WGST 590
Meters Kilocycles
Studios Ansley Hotel

405.2 WSB 740
Meters Kilocycles
Studios Biltmore Hotel

8 A. M.—Morning Moods
8:45 A. M.—"Saturday's Timely Topics"
9 A. M.—Studio presentation; time, South
10:15 A. M.—RSVP, CBS.
9:30 A. M.—Ida Bailey Allen, CBS.
9:45 A. M.—Benjamin Horne, CBS.
10 A. M.—Columbia Revue, CBS; time,
Morris.
10:30 A. M.—"Pence, Ponce de Leon Marriage," Atlanta.
2 P. M.—"Merchants' music box."
2:30 P. M.—"Musical albums," CBS.
2:45 P. M.—"Country Music," CBS.
3:15 P. M.—Footnotes, CBS.
3:45 P. M.—"Ant Zelena," CBS.
4 P. M.—Bill Morris' show to go; time,
Morris.
4:15 P. M.—"Pence, Ponce de Leon Marriage," Atlanta.
4:30 P. M.—"Meyer-Dick," Fur Co.
4:45 P. M.—Latest phonograph releases.
5 P. M.—"Time," Ponce de Leon Marriage.
5 P. M.—"Meredore," CBS.
7:30 P. M.—Studio presentation.
7:45 P. M.—"Bambi" Baker family.
8 P. M.—"Brown and orchestra," time, Morris.
8:45 P. M.—"Voice of Columbia," CBS; time, Southland.
9:30 P. M.—"Wiley Jones Fur Co."
9:45 P. M.—"Going by the Sea," CBS; time,
Ponce de Leon.
10 P. M.—"California melodies," CBS.
10:15 P. M.—"Meinert Coal Co., featuring Bell.
10:30 P. M.—"Nocturnes," CBS.
11 P. M.—"Fan Tan orchestra."

James Thurber, editor of "The Talk of the Town" in the New Yorker and an author of considerable note, will be guest speaker on "Bill Schud's Going to Press" at 4 this afternoon over WGST and the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Mr. Thurber, by popular request, will give another of the humorous readings for which he is famous.

Thurber appeared on this program about a year ago and after his talk many listeners asked for another performance. Although his offering next Wednesday will be along the same lines as his former one, the theme will be entirely different. * * *

Joe MacDonald, who played in musical comedies before she starred in the talkies, will sing several numbers from her coming picture, "Let's Go Native," when she appears as a baritone artist on the California Melodies broadcast over WGB and the nation-wide Columbia network at 9:30 tonight. This program will come from the studios of KJL, Los Angeles, by direct wire to WABC, New York, which serves as the key station for the chain.

Miss MacDonald's first stage opportunity will come Saturday when she scores an immediate success, subsequently appearing in the leading roles of such productions as "Tangerine," "The Magic Ring," "Tip Toes," "Yes, Yes, Yvette," "Sunny Days" and more recently in "Angela." Since her debut last year, she has played in "The Love Parade" opposite Maurice Chevalier and "The Vagabond King."

Other features on this program will be the singing of "Kiss Waltz" by the Bilmores; "Lolita" as sung by Carl Omeron, Pacific coast tenor, and the premiere performance of Jo Trent's newest hymn, "You Got To Be Right," by the orchestra. * * *

Babe Ruth will be interviewed by Grantland Rice, sports writer, during the Coca-Cola program broadcast over WSB and an NBC network at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

During the season of 1926 Ruth established a major league record with 60 home runs. With a present standing of 40 home runs, he may better his old record.

Baseball observers say that Babe Ruth's home run hitting has done more to develop modern baseball than any other factor in the game.

A string dance orchestra directed by Leonard Joy will be heard in a program of popular dance melodies. Station WEAR will serve the New York area. * * *

"When I Was Seventeen," an old Swedish folk song with words by Lilljeblom, will be sung by Olive Palmer, soprano, during the broadcast of the Palmolive Hour over WSB and the stations associated with the NBC at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

An orchestra directed by Gustave Haenchen; Olive Palmer, soprano; Elizabeth Lennox, contralto; Paul Oliver, tenor, and the Revelers, a male quartet, present the program.

Henry Upton Sims, president of the American Bar Association, will be the guest speaker on the Halsey, Stuart

RAILROAD SCHEDULES

Schedules Published as Information.

ATLANTA TERMINAL STATION.

Arrives A. B. P. R. R. Leaves

7:10 a.m. — Coal Train — 8:15 a.m.

6:30 a.m. — Bwkt-Tifton-Thomasville — 9:45 a.m.

Arrives A. & W. P. R. R. Leaves

11:45 a.m. — New Orleans-Montgomery — 8:45 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — New Orleans-Montgomery — 12:30 p.m.

7:10 a.m. — New Orleans-Montgomery — 4:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — New Orleans-Montgomery — 5:30 p.m.

12:30 p.m. — Macon-Jax-M-Tampa — 7:30 p.m.

7:25 p.m. — Tampa-Jax-St. P'burg — 9:05 p.m.

7:30 a.m. — Macon-Milledge-Sav. — 10:15 p.m.

7:15 p.m. — Macon-Albany — 11:30 p.m.

Arrives B. & O. R. R. Leaves

8:35 a.m. — New Orleans-Tid-Train — 7:25 a.m.

4:30 p.m. — New Orleans-Tid-Train — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Macon-Albany — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Macon — 4:30 p.m.

12:30 p.m. — New Orleans-Tid-Train — 7:30 a.m.

7:30 a.m. — New Orleans-Tid-Train — 9:30 a.m.

7:30 a.m. — New Orleans-Tid-Train — 11:30 a.m.

Arrives C. of G. R. R. Leaves

10:00 a.m. — Columbus — 8:00 a.m.

4:00 p.m. — W. & W. R. R. — 11:01 a.m.

10:50 a.m. — Birmingham-Memphis — 4:15 p.m.

6:10 a.m. — N. Y. Wash-Rich-Nor. — 7:00 a.m.

7:50 a.m. — N. Y. Wash-Rich-Nor. — 9:30 a.m.

11:30 a.m. — N. Y. Wash-Rich-Nor. — 11:30 a.m.

Arrives C. & G. R. R. Leaves

5:20 a.m. — Coal Train — 12:30 a.m.

8:15 a.m. — Birmingham — 6:00 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

12:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

1:30 p.m. — Birmingham — 12:30 p.m.

10:30 a.m. — Birmingham — 11:30 a.m.

NO ADMISSION MADE BY WILLIAM R. EARY

Detectives To Wait for Safe-Cracker's Recovery Before Questioning Him.

While William R. Eary, suspected of complicity in the recent safe robbery of a downtown department store, is believed by police to be a ring-leader in that burglary, no confession has been obtained and no efforts will be made to procure a statement until he has sufficiently recovered from serious injuries which he suffered in the elevator shaft of a downtown hardware store last week, it was announced Tuesday by Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole.

Chief Poole made it clear that his department has evidence which it considers substantial enough to connect the injured man with the department store robbery.

The suspect regained consciousness for the first time Tuesday morning and asked for a cigarette. It was while he was puffing on the first smoke he had since he was found seriously crushed in the elevator shaft last Friday, that Eary showed a willingness to talk, and with a hazy smile answered in the affirmative almost all questions.

Meanwhile his wife, Daisy Eary, is being held in jail on charges of suspicion following her dramatic visit to her husband's bedside Monday during which the injured man failed to respond to her pleas for recognition. Mrs. Eary, who police say is wanted in Montgomery, Ala., has steadfastly avoided any statement which would incriminate her or herself or Jerry Darden, another suspect, with local safe and fur robberies.

A telegram was received by police Tuesday from Savannah, signed by D. E. Harjo, under indictment in the coast city, requesting information as to the condition of the injured suspect here. Police wired back advising that the Rev. Eary's condition was considered "very serious."

Darden, the man held, was arrested Monday following a visit to the room at Grady hospital occupied by Eary. While he is incarcerated only on the technical charge of suspicion, he is held incommunicado because he was an ally of the injured man in a series of planned enterprises here.

Chief Poole Tuesday made the following statement:

"I am afraid that certain agencies are trying to push this case a little fast. We have substantial evidence against Eary and do not want to question him while he is in his present condition. Doctors have said that he is not responsible for his statements and for this reason we are not talking to him. When he has fully recovered, if it does which is possible, we will question him. Of course, but anything that he says now would stand up against a jury."

Mrs. Eary Tuesday revealed the anxiety with which she awaited her husband's return last Friday night, immediately after their arrival from Georgia, where their grand jury declined to indict them in connection with a safe robbery. She said Eary had been drinking and that after waiting all night she spent the next day in suspense. It was Sunday, she said, before she learned that Eary had been found safe and had escaped the hardware concern's elevator shaft. She said she met Darden when he asked her why she was crying and that he volunteered to go to the hospital and find out the condition of her husband.

"I didn't know my husband ever robbed a safe," she said, "and I don't believe what the police say about him."

Permanent Wave

You cannot know the comfort and beauty of a Permanent until you have had a Maison Victoire wave. No matter what price you pay, there is none more beautiful or lasting.

Maison Victoire, Inc.

Two Shops in Atlanta
113½ ALABAMA ST.
Phone JACKSON 8986
Cor. Whitehall and Alabama
181½ PEACHTREE ST.
Phone JA 9378-9379
Opposite Davison-Paxton's
And Shops All Over the Southland

Try this for constipation

Your taste enjoys this full strength bran

Delicious! That's what you'll say when you try Post's Whole Bran. So daintily light; so crisp and crunchy; so full of flavor—you'll want Post's Whole Bran just because you enjoy it. And of course, it's as beneficial as any whole bran cereal you can get, in winning the fight against constipation. Take a fresh start today in keeping the system cleared of digestive wastes. Get the combination—beneficial whole bran and delightful taste. Eat it with milk or cream and in muffins. Order it now from your grocer.

Post's WHOLE BRAN
A Product of General Foods Corporation
FULL STRENGTH BRAN
FOR CONSTIPATION
© 1930, G. F. Corp.

Georgia's Famed Youthful Silhouette Artist, Joe Cranston Jones, Dies at Augusta Home

Joseph Cranston Jones and some of his silhouettes. At the top is a nature scene, depicting a child among nature's lesser children, in which the genius of the boy artist may be noted in the intricate and bold outlines of the picture. Every grass blade and every flexible movement had to be cut with scissors, as in the silhouette at the left, showing the philosopher contemplating nature in one of its beautiful moods. At the right is James Montgomery Flagg's crayon drawing of the Augusta boy artist, as he appeared to the great painter when he visited him more than a year ago at his Augusta home.

Afflicted Boy Rose to International Note Through Scissors and Black Paper.

Amid the peaceful shadows of Magnolia cemetery at Augusta, with golden shafts of sunshine flecking the ground just as he had portrayed it in his many wonderful woodland scenes, Joseph Cranston Jones, Georgia's eminent silhouette artist, was laid to rest shortly before sundown Tuesday after funeral services at the First Christian church.

Bringing to a close a short life which, despite his handicaps, was one of attainment and world-wide recognition, death came to the brilliant boy artist in his mother's home Monday after a siege of many months during which, although the misfortune which had deprived him of the joys of childhood had gained control of his body, he walked about in his invalid's chair, no word of complaint, no utterance of despair from his patient lips.

Path Beaten to His Door.

Hallowed by affliction, Joe Cranston Jones had made a place for himself in the world of art, and the great world had beaten a path to his humble door to acclaim him a genius far more gifted than others whose strength and health and money had paid for their having the brush and palette of a painter, and had enabled them to travel and view, go forth and study the subjects which they placed on canvas.

And his home had been indeed in the wilderness—that vast wilderness of the stricken invalid, where four walls and the hospital cot shut him in while other children of his age pranced about and played. And here, though the arts are so important and impressive in the eyes of growing boys and girls; that awful wilderness of pain and loneliness as he lay for many months strapped to his back on his little white cot out at the Scottish Rite Home for Crippled Children at Atlanta, and later in a small room at his mother's Augusta home, where he seldom had more than an occasional glimpse of the outside world.

Even so, Nature must have observed the pallid boy to whom all things had been denied; and it must have been that fairies came to whisper things to him as he lay ill. For Joe Cranston Jones, with nothing more than a little pair of scissors and some black paper, at an early age began to delicately cut out things—pictures that had an elfin-like suggestion and that had to do with lions and tigers and horses, birds and happy children at play in quiet, shady dells.

Atlanta Women Aid Him. It was while he was a patient in the Scottish Rite home here that the genius of the stricken lad first was

County Fact-Finding Body Opens Offices

The fact-finding commission of Fulton county, a civic group organized by the Atlanta Daily World last Friday night for the purpose of running down harmful rumors and charges in connection with the recent primaries of Fulton county, opened offices Tuesday in rooms 658 and 659, Cavalier.

The commission, according to its officers, is strictly a non-partisan, independent fact-finding organization, financed by public subscription for the purpose of establishing facts in connection with the recent primaries and to prevent the dissemination of many harmful rumors concerning them.

The public is invited to give the commission affidavits as to any facts.

Any person having personal knowledge of the actual conduct of the primaries is invited by the commission to come to their offices to make affidavit with regard to same.

Holder To Address Motor Club Friday

The Atlanta Motor Club will resume its regular meetings with a session at 7:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the car room of the Ansley hotel. John N. Holder, candidate for governor, will deliver an address on safety and the highways. Directors of the club will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Ansley, at which time officers for the ensuing year will be chosen, as well as several new directors.

U. S. Navy Recruiting Branch Fills Quota

The monthly quota of first enlistments in the United States navy for the Georgia-Florida district, recently reduced from 48 to 24 men, at the navy department at Washington, was filled by the local navy recruiting office in five days. It was announced Tuesday by Lieutenant A. F. Anderson, officer in charge. Of the 24 men leaving Atlanta shortly for the United States naval training station at Hampton Roads, Va., 14 are from Georgia and 10 from Florida.

Grand Jury Indicts 2 in Triple Burglary

Three robberies by the same two men within five days is just too much for one merchant to bear, T. K. Trekas, of 130 Powell street, decided when he invoked the aid of the law to protect his place. The grand jury Tuesday indicted J. C. Evans and D. H. Brodie on charges of burglarizing Trekas' store, two and a half hours apart on this visit. The defendants are charged with taking $5 and some merchandise on July 10, a pistol and $25 on July 12, ad $8 on July 15.

Grand Jury Resumes Graft Probe Thursday

Investigation of city affairs will be continued by the grand jury at a special session Thursday, it was announced Tuesday after the grand jury spent several hours on routine business and in investigating certain matters. A trial of additional indictments in the city probe is expected in the near future. It is understood that at least one bill has been drawn and others are in the course of preparation.

G. M. Taylor Joins Holleman Company

G. M. Taylor, well known in Atlanta real estate circles, has become associated with the Holleman Realty Company, 10 Auburn avenue. Mr. Taylor will have complete charge of the real estate business of the company, including all classes of property. He has been engaged in the real estate business in Atlanta for a number of years and is considered one of the best informed men in his line.

DeKalb Jones Family To Reunite August 29

The twenty-second annual reunion of the Jones family, descendants of the Rev. Robert Jones, of DeKalb county, will be held Friday, August 29, at Grant Park, according to W. P. Jones, of Forest Park, a member of the family. Members of the Callahan, Dodge, Huie and Sims families connected with the Jones, also are invited to attend.

Irish Potato Theft Brings Indictment

Theft of 2,500 pounds of Irish potatoes from two freight cars of the N. C. & St. L. railway was charged Tuesday to Robert Florence in indictment returned by the Fulton county grand jury. The true bills allege that Florence took 800 pounds of potatoes from a car on December 23, 1929, and 1,700 pounds on December 26, 1929.

Sam Aiken Will Hear Death Sentence Today

Sentence of death will be passed this morning on Sam Aiken, whose conviction for the murder of his wife was upheld recently by the state supreme court. Judge Virgil B. Morris, Fulton superior court, will pronounce sentence at 10 o'clock this morning. The date of execution will be set within a period of 20 days, under one widely circulated juvenile book, "The Tree Named John," by John B. Sale, also was illustrated with 20 plates of his amazing black-and-whites.

Circus Parade His First Work.

The boy's first efforts at wielding scissors followed his brief glimpse of a circus parade when he was very young, a larger brother having compassionately held him up to a window as the calliope and clowns and wild animal cages passed by. Even in those early efforts there was an unavoidable absence of general art. The Literary Digest, in illustrating a series of his work in 1926, together with the story of how he won an art contest in which more than 2,000 contestants competed, declared that "his work speaks for itself."

He was well known among leading artists, and was more often than not James Montgomery Flagg who went to Augusta some time ago for the purpose of visiting the boy genius and talking with him in the beautiful home he had bought for his mother. While there Flagg drew a portrait of the young silhouette artist which has been widely circulated and reproduced.

Joseph Cranston Jones is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marion L. Jones, Sr.; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Morris; a brother, Marion L. Jones, Jr.; and several uncles and aunts.

Such Scarfs Were
$49.50 Last Year

Canadian

Red Fox Scarfs

$29.75

Now is the time to buy a fur scarf—fur prices simply can't stay at this low ebb! Fall days are just around the corner, and a fur scarf provides just the right accent and warmth for a dressmaker suit or Fall frock . . . Davison's is the place—if you are thrifty, and like to buy with confidence.

Buy Now—Pay in November

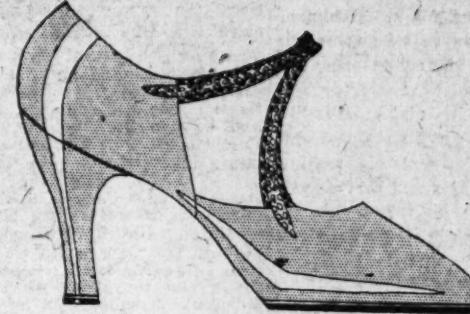

Furs, Third Floor

ATLANTA'S Only REFRIGERATED STORE
DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA . . . affiliated with MACY'S, New York

north of Atlanta on the Mount Vernon highway.

the Rev. W. M. Jones, Dr. W. P. King, the Rev. J. O. Hanes and Mrs. Bible school to be conducted from 8 to 10:30 a. m.

Out They Go! 936 Pairs Women's Shoes

Formerly
$6.50 to $13.50
Now
$3.25 to $6.75

Shoes that sold at the beginning of the season for as much as $15 and $17.50 were reduced to the above prices and are now again reduced to one-half their last price! Shoes for every occasion—many that can be worn all fall. Reptile skins, patent leathers, kidskins and fabrics in popular colors.

Women's Shoes—Second Floor

ATLANTA'S Only REFRIGERATED STORE
DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA . . . affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Final Clearaway!

Summer

Furniture

1/4 to 1/2 Off

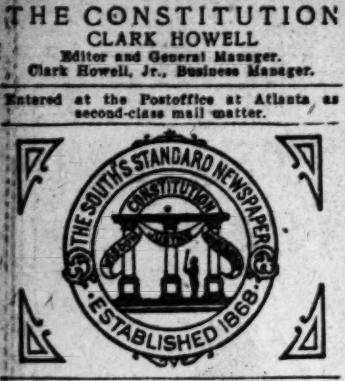

Must Go To Make Room For Fall Stock!
Many Pieces At Less Than They Cost Us!
Ideal For Year-Round Use In Sun Parlors!

Here are some of the values in this event:

Originally	Now
Ivory Fibre Suite	$ 59.00 $ 28.50
Rattan Wheel Chaise	$ 98.50 $ 68.75
Upholstered Wheel Settee	$119.00 $ 59.75
3-Pc. Fibre Suite	$ 34.50 $ 23.50
Loose Cushioned Glider	$ 54.50 $ 39.75
4-Pc. Sun Room Suite	$179.50 $ 113.00
3-Pc. Fibre Suite	$ 49.50 $ 33.50
3-Pc. Fibre Suite	$ 34.50 $ 23.50
Odd Rockers and Chairs	$ 13.50 $ 6.25
3-Pc. Sun Room Suites	$ 79.00 $ 42.50
3-Pc. Sun Room Suites	$ 49.75 $ 25.00
Fibre Terrace Seat	$ 17.50 $ 11.50
2-Pc. Sun Room Suite	$233.50 $ 114.00
Small Round Lamp Table	$ 19.75 $ 13.75
3-Pc. Fibre Suites	$ 79.50 $ 39.50
High Back Chair	$ 74.50 $ 52.75
Ottoman to Match (above)	$ 28.50 $ 19.50
Coil Spring Glider	$ 44.50 $ 29.75
2 Couch Hammocks	$ 35.00 $ 12.50

Furniture, Fifth Floor.

ATLANTA'S Only REFRIGERATED STORE
DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA . . . affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Telephone WALNUT 6505.
SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Daily and Sat. 1 Mo. $1.00. 1 Year. $10.00
Daily 20c. 50c. $1.00. $10.00
Sundays 25c. 50c. $1.25. $12.00
Singles 10c. 25c. 50c. $1.00
Sunday 10c. 25c. $1.25. $12.00
P. D. and non-resident
Subscriptions for first or second year only:
Daily (without Sunday) $1.00
ATLANTA, GA., AUGUST 13, 1930.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution, advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City at 2 p. m. in the day after issue. It can be had in New York's News Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner); Schultz News Agency, at Bryant Park and Grand Central Depot.

THE CONSTITUTION is not responsible for advance payment or out-of-pocket expenses of agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates not authorized; also no returns made for any subscription until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news distributed by it. It is not entitled to credit to this paper and also the local news published herein.

AN EARNEST ENTREATY—Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the name of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified.—2 Thess. 3:1.

PRAYER—May Thy workers, Lord, sow the seed freely beside all waters, and Thy word shall return to Thee void.

DO SOMETHING—OR QUIT!

Elsewhere in this issue is reproduced a letter to the Constitution from Augustus Lukeman, sculptor of the unfinished figures on the Confederate memorial on Stone mountain.

Mr. Lukeman takes the position that "What the Stone Mountain Memorial Association requires is a firm, fearless leader, who will stimulate new life in the project."

In that stand he is right.

The present leaders of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association should either make some effort at the completion of the memorial or they should quit and let others take up the work.

Leading members of the city government and outstanding citizens, of Atlanta are ready to go about removing the blot on the city's reputation left by the present condition of the memorial, but their hands are tied and their efforts handicapped by refusal of the present executive organization to either go ahead or "get from under."

In less than ten months' time the site of the memorial will revert to the donors unless the three figures of the central group are completed. Sculptor Lukeman has declared that it will be impossible to complete the carving in that length of time. Even if it could be, the association openly admits its inability to raise enough money even to get the work started.

For more than a year, following the last abortive effort to reawaken public confidence in the association to an extent which would justify an attempt to raise a fund to pay its debts, the association has not moved a peg—not has it let any one else do so.

The present impasse faced by Mayor-elect Key and Chairman McCord of the chamber of commerce committee, is directly attributable to the failure of the association in the past and to its attitude at present.

It is, as suggested in Mr. Lukeman's letter, inconceivable that a work of the magnitude of the Stone Mountain memorial continue longer to be the fiasco that it now is, and the association should either take some step towards accomplishing that for which it was created, or else turn it over to others who will.

In other words, it is time to do something—or quit!

MAJOR E. B. STAHLMAN.

The death at Nashville of Major E. B. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner, former railway executive, and past master in politics, removes one of the notable figures in southern life during the past half century. Tennessee and the whole south will feel a real sorrow for his demise.

Major Stahlman was German born, coming to this country in his tenth year, early engaging in hard manual labor, but absorbing in his impressionable youth the principles of democratic freedom and evolving the spirit of rebirth as a stalwart American. He rose steadily and easily from wage-earner to a superior transportation executive, performing great services in developing and stabilizing the railway interests of the middle and deep south.

He was a man of strong positive convictions upon public issues with the courage to fight for them against any odds. Whether his opponents were two or ten thousand he faced them unflinchingly. He engaged in many stirring contests for the things that he believed "ought to be" for the general welfare of the city, the state, or the nation. In what he believed to be a righteous cause "his spear knew no brother;" he led where others hesitated; he won where others doubted.

The career of Major Stahlman, the power and success he achieved, finely illustrates the value set by the people upon valiant character and virile courage. His place in the life of his community and state has been long conspicuous and his passing from their activities and service will be keenly felt by his fellow-citizens. He leaves a name to be revered and a career to be emulated.

THEIR EYES BEING OPENED.

The editor of the Monroe Advertiser is a worthy example of those who are teachable by time and circumstances. In his latest issue he says:

"In voting for Al Smith we had a sneaking idea that we were voting for the best party but the less desirable candidate, but now we are not at all sure that we were not voting for the better candidate also."

There are millions of voters all over the nation who have reached the conclusion that they voted for the "less desirable candidate" when they deserted from Al Smith and voted for Hoover. Realizing acutely what has come to the country with Hoover and comparing his tenders and failures with what would reasonably have come with Smith and a democratic congress, they are prepared to say "mea culpa"—it is the result of my sin.

It will be one of the strangest phenomena of political history if the American people who so nonchalantly elected Hoover two years ago, now go to their polls and endorse the things which his administration has brought upon them.

It is expectable that they will approve the Grundyized tariff act which he signed into law and which imposes unprecedented exactions of living costs from every inhabitant of the nation? Will they approve the decimation of our foreign trade in order to enrich a special class of domestic industrial profiteers?

Will the people who are everywhere beset by a lawless liquor traffic, growing greater and more defiant every day, endorse President Hoover's timidity in dealing with the problem and carrying on with a commission that dallies with a problem more destructive of the morale and securities of the nation than has happened since secession threatened the solidarity of the Union?

Will the farmers of the country go to the ballot boxes in November and register grateful satisfaction with the Hoover rag-tags of alleged "farm relief"? With their crops congested on their hands, the markets for them cut down, and the prices for them the lowest in a generation, will those farmers who swallowed his campaign promises to them, "hook, line and sinker" now say by their ballots "we have received all that we hoped for?"

Will the laboring people who supported Hoover in the belief that the "greatest engineer of the age" would make work abundant and wages high and certain, now affirm at the polls that "Hoover is our great god of the anvil and the hammer?"

Viewing the condition of the country today, with business depressed, the farmers distressed, our foreign customers standing aloof, and our working people so largely idle and consuming whatever savings they may have made, no man or woman who voted for Smith needs to feel any shame or offer any excuse.

Imagine the wrath and curses the republicans of the nation would be voicing today if Smith had been elected and present conditions ensued. The vocabulary of denunciation would be emptying upon his head, and the universal republican cry would be "We told you democratic rule would bring ruin upon you." Their common theme would be "hell's broke loose in the good old U. S. A." Well, so it would seem—but let no one forget that it is all pure republican hell!

Joe Grundy seems to have lost his seat in the senate and his voice at the same time. If he had lost the last first he might have held onto his seat.

The drouth is increasing food prices, but a lot of people are said to "dig their graves with their teeth" by eating too much. Blessings often come in curious shapes.

Weather prophets say the heated season presages a hard winter ahead. There ought to be a law to muzzle those killjoys.

Both parties in New York will have wet planks in their platforms—a mighty good way to avoid a prohibition fight between them.

Republican "farm relief" is driving increasing numbers of farmers into the towns and looking for paying jobs.

Many are the uses of adversity—one of which is to make many votes.

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Quakes

The earthquake in Italy, with its great loss of life and its immense train of suffering, recalls all to poignantly the Messina disaster of 1908, which counted as many as 70,000 victims. There were some singular incidents, the Observer reminds us. One man was brought out alive after being entombed for 37 days; he owed his survival to the fact that a confectioner's shop had collapsed over him, and he had lived on the contents. Earthquakes are unhappy, no new ones in Italy since that day, they are in Japan. England's most unstable center is Comrie, in Pethshire, though its vibrations are nothing to speak of. But not all earthquakes get into the papers. Dr. Charles Davison, the seismologist, once said that the biggest consideration of his instruments recorded was never heard of otherwise. He believed its vents were the heart of the Asian continent, among wandering tribes who would feel it least and say least about it.

Puccini

Shrine.

A stream of pilgrims from all parts of the world continues to visit the Torre del Lago, Massacuccio, to pay homage to the memory of Puccini, the creator of "Madame Butterfly."

"The Tomb." The resting-place of his remains is one of the most unusual in the world. The piano that conceals him is in the living room of the villa purchased by Puccini with proceeds from "Manon Lescaut," his first successful opera. At the door, "Max," the aged shepherd, white and hairy, stands with a staff in the master's step. On the table are Puccini's glasses, the last parcel of letters, a book of Indian music and songs and the unfinished score of "Turandot," act 1, dated August 1, 1921. Opposite the upright piano and the casket containing the body is a casket with marble figures. There is a figure representing "Madame Butterfly," a figure representing "Golden West" and "Manor." The walls are laid in mosaics. In adjoining rooms are trophies of the hunt; the master's hat hangs on the nail, his boots and shoes stand in rows, his chair is drawn to the fireplace.

Cheap Books.

The "libraires" of France who are not librarians, but booksellers, have held their annual congress at Lyons and examined the important question of the price of books. The French yellow-back, however, is now in paper covers, the cheapest book in Europe, it is only three times its pre-war price—and it should be five times what it was.

The publishers are a group with many figures. There is a figure representing "Madame Butterfly," a figure representing "Golden West" and "Manor."

The walls are laid in mosaics. In adjoining rooms are trophies of the hunt; the master's hat hangs on the nail, his boots and shoes stand in rows, his chair is drawn to the fireplace.

Reform of City Government.

It is a pretty sure thing already that in the next legislature a bill or bills will be introduced to obtain certain reforms of the city charter and government conduct of Atlanta, the growing capital of the state.

The recent experiences of the city show the necessity for such reforms. The scandals which have plagued the city have also shaded the whole state, and the people of Georgia expect such legislative reforms of municipal conduct as will make such scandals unlikely in the future.

Feuds of the people and not many legislators know that the government of cities is a state concern and not simply a local corporation and interest. The supreme court of the state has ruled that—

"In Georgia municipal corporations are regarded as agencies of the state government and hold all property acquired by them for public use as a matter of right."

ST. VITUS' DANCE IS NOT A NERVOUS TROUBLE.

For years I have struggled along with a middle name. But when I have a pain in the neck or get a little lugubrious about my liver or feel at all squishy—you know, as if one were coming down with a complication of typhoid, influenza and brain fever—my middle name is Pevay. I don't mean sarcastic. Gracious, no, one has to be in fine fettle to do a sarcastic bit. I mean something like an acute nervous wreck; go into a groan when anybody asks how I'm feeling now; in short give a most impressive imitation of an invalid in the last stages of something terrible. For the record, or until dinner time, say, I'm frightenedly prostrated. I tell you that it's nervous.

It's just as nervous and just as weak and just as deserving of sympathy, kindness, consideration, coddling, fussing with, letting alone or deferring to, as your Aunt Maria would do. She's a good woman and her worst spells of nervous imposition.

The young person with chorea, St. Vitus' dance, is in an identical state. I contend, and I know I am right about this that it would just as helpful to me, when I'm putting on a little show of my own that way, if all the rest of the household should completely neglect me, live mostly in their small plans and forget their ways in general, in order to avoid disturbing or annoying me in any way, as it would be for the child with chorea if all the other members of the family were to conduct their lives with a regard mainly for the invalid's interest.

Chorea is an acute infectious disease—that is, caused by the invasion of certain tissues by germs. It is not in any way communicable. It is not a nervous disorder or trouble that is the tonsillitis from which it originates.

The vocabulary of denunciation would be emptying upon his head, and the universal republican cry would be "We told you democratic rule would bring ruin upon you."

Their common theme would be "hell's broke loose in the good old U. S. A."

Well, so it would seem—but let no one forget that it is all pure republican hell!

Will Grundy seem to have lost his voice at the same time. If he had lost the last first he might have held onto his seat.

The drouth is increasing food prices, but a lot of people are said to "dig their graves with their teeth" by eating too much. Blessings often come in curious shapes.

Weather prophets say the heated season presages a hard winter ahead. There ought to be a law to muzzle those killjoys.

Both parties in New York will have wet planks in their platforms—a mighty good way to avoid a prohibition fight between them.

Republican "farm relief" is driving increasing numbers of farmers into the towns and looking for paying jobs.

Many are the uses of adversity—one of which is to make many votes.

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1930.

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL.

We Need Sensible Legislators and Not Demagogues and Reactionaries.

It seems to me that while we are pleased to those servants of Atlanta who betrayed their trust and set up a system of shameful grafts, bribery and bought legislation are being diligently prosecuted and honest juries are convicting the guilty, we should also be vigilant to those who are representing us in the general assembly.

We have knowledge that the silly custom of "courtesy" is being advocated by the legislature almost invariably any measure asked for by a county delegate to go through practically without examination, analysis of effects, and without opposition. We also have abundant evidence that Atlanta and Fulton county have time and again been victimized by the legislature.

Each candidate for a legislative seat is one of the most unusual in the world. The piano that conceals him is in the living room of the villa purchased by Puccini with proceeds from "Manon Lescaut," his first successful opera. At the door, "Max," the aged shepherd, white and hairy, stands with a staff in the master's step. On the table are Puccini's glasses, the last parcel of letters, a book of Indian music and songs and the unfinished score of "Turandot," act 1, dated August 1, 1921. Opposite the upright piano and the casket containing the body is a casket with marble figures. There is a figure representing "Madame Butterfly," a figure representing "Golden West" and "Manor."

The walls are laid in mosaics. In adjoining rooms are trophies of the hunt; the master's hat hangs on the nail, his boots and shoes stand in rows, his chair is drawn to the fireplace.

Each candidate for a legislative seat is one of the most unusual in the world. The piano that conceals him is in the living room of the villa purchased by Puccini with proceeds from "Manon Lescaut," his first successful opera. At the door, "Max," the aged shepherd, white and hairy, stands with a staff in the master's step. On the table are Puccini's glasses, the last parcel of letters, a book of Indian music and songs and the unfinished score of "Turandot," act 1, dated August 1, 1921. Opposite the upright piano and the casket containing the body is a casket with marble figures. There is a figure representing "Madame Butterfly," a figure representing "Golden West" and "Manor."

The walls are laid in mosaics. In adjoining rooms are trophies of the hunt; the master's hat hangs on the nail, his boots and shoes stand in rows, his chair is drawn to the fireplace.

Each candidate for a legislative seat is one of the most unusual in the world. The piano that conceals him is in the living room of the villa purchased by Puccini with proceeds from "Manon Lescaut," his first successful opera. At the door, "Max," the aged shepherd, white and hairy, stands with a staff in the master's step. On the table are Puccini's glasses, the last parcel of letters, a book of Indian music and songs and the unfinished score of "Turandot," act 1, dated August 1, 1921. Opposite the upright piano and the casket containing the body is a casket with marble figures. There is a figure representing "Madame Butterfly," a figure representing "Golden West" and "Manor."

The walls are laid in mosaics. In adjoining rooms are trophies of the hunt; the master's hat hangs on the nail, his boots and shoes stand in rows, his chair is drawn to the fireplace.

Each candidate for a legislative seat is one of the most unusual in the world. The piano that conceals him is in the living room of the villa purchased by Puccini with proceeds from "Manon Lescaut," his first successful opera. At the door, "Max," the aged shepherd, white and hairy, stands with a staff in the master's step. On the table are Puccini's glasses, the last parcel of letters, a book of Indian music and songs and the unfinished score of "Turandot," act 1, dated August 1, 1921. Opposite the upright piano and the casket containing the body is a casket with marble figures. There is a figure representing "Madame Butterfly," a figure representing "Golden West" and "Manor."

The walls are laid in mosaics. In adjoining rooms are trophies of the hunt; the master's hat hangs on the nail, his boots and shoes stand in rows, his chair is drawn to the fireplace.

Each candidate for a legislative seat is one of the most unusual in the world. The piano that conceals him is in the living room of the villa purchased by Puccini with proceeds from "Manon Lescaut," his first successful opera. At the door, "Max," the aged shepherd, white and hairy, stands with a staff in the master's step. On the table are Puccini's glasses, the last parcel of letters, a book of Indian music and songs and the unfinished score of "Turandot," act 1, dated August 1, 1921. Opposite the upright piano and the casket containing the body is a casket with marble figures. There is a figure representing "Madame Butterfly," a figure representing "Golden West" and "Manor."

The walls are laid in mosaics. In adjoining rooms are trophies of the hunt; the master's hat hangs on the nail, his boots and shoes stand in rows, his chair is drawn to the fireplace.</p

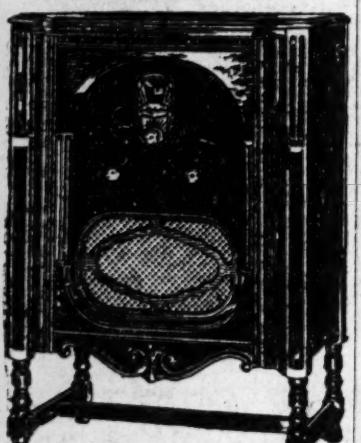

Move Made To Save Schools From Shortage of Funds

School Board Votes To Set Up Committee of Five To Confer With Key and Legislative Candidates.

Members of the Atlanta board of education moved Tuesday to protect the school system against a pending shortage in funds and also to secure favorable legislation regarding the school system, when it voted to set up a committee of five members to confer with the Atlanta Board of Education, Atlanta City Council, Key and members of city council regarding the shortage of funds and with candidates for Fulton county legislature regarding possible legislation affecting the school system.

Just what the duties of the committee

PHILLIPS & CREW.
BEST BUY FOR TODAY

Majestic 91
SOLD FOR $152.00
REPOSESSED FROM PURCHASER

PRICED NOW FOR $124.00
PHILLIPS & CREW.
235 PEACHTREE STREET

ASKS $50,000 IN DEATH OF CHILD IN ELEVATOR

First National Bank Made Defendant in Action Filed by Mrs. Froug.

A suit seeking $50,000 for the death of her daughter, Pauline, aged 3, was filed Tuesday in Fulton superior court by Mrs. Simon Froug against the First National Bank of Atlanta. The plaintiff charged that the child was killed on July 17 when it was pulled out of an elevator not equipped with a gate and fail to the bottom of the shaft. The suit was filed by the law firm of Branch & Howard and alleged that the accident occurred in the Atlanta National Bank building on Whitehall and Alabama streets.

Pat Hendricks, superintendent of electrical affairs of the borough of Atlanta, who was in charge of the electrical convention at Denver, and under instructions from Councilman W. C. Jenkins, chairman of the electric lights committee of council, will make a study of the operation of safety doors for elevators, which it is said would prevent recurrence of such accidents.

Mr. Jenkins had announced that he would offer a paper in council at its last session requiring installation of safety doors in all elevators, which it is said would prevent recurrence of such accidents.

The motion authorizing the board probe was passed over the protests of Atlanta Mayor E. A. Gilliam, who is chairman of the selection committee of council, and that if there is anything it is the board's responsibility. They, therefore, insisted on selection of a committee from the board to review the contract and its operation separately from the council investigation.

Man Badly Slashed By Shattered Window

C. A. Burroughs, 62, of 976 Washington street, S. W., foreman of the warehouse of the Postal Telegraph Company here, suffered a badly slashed wrist early Tuesday when he was struck by a pane of glass which fell from a second story window of the structure striking him on the lower forearm. Burroughs applied an improvised tourniquet which slowed the flow of blood.

The injured man was in a weakened condition when employed rushed him to Grady hospital where stitches were taken in his wrist.

Foreign Trade Club Plans Dinner-Dance

The Atlanta Foreign Trade Club will give a dinner-dance at the Biltmore hotel Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in honor of Dr. Rolf Jaeger, former German consul in Atlanta, now stationed in New Orleans. Robert Hecht, president of the club, will preside as toastmaster and official host.

Mr. Lukeman urges a new leader for memorial

Illiteracy Campaign Report Due Friday

Details of the illiteracy campaign which has been waged in Georgia since last October will be submitted to the Georgia illiteracy commission to be held in the state capitol Friday. Dr. M. E. Dugan will make the report to the commission.

The amount spent in the campaign, Dr. Dugan says, was $57,552.67, of which one-third was contributed by the Julius Rosenwald fund and two-thirds raised locally in the several counties. The report will show what was spent in each county and the number of classes organized and the total enrollment of the classes.

Bibb county is particularly carrying on the work. Dr. Dugan said, and Glenn county already has raised funds for the new school year. The commission, at its Friday meeting, will discuss plans for the continuance of even a more vigorous campaign during the coming scholastic year.

$100,000 Suits Filed In Wiring Accident

Suits asking a total of $100,000 in damages for the death of one electrician and the serious injury of another were filed Tuesday against the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Bargel Thompson Water-proofing Company by Mrs. Nora Louise Thomas and W. T. Sneed, 51, in superior court.

Mrs. Thomas asks $50,000 for the death of her husband, W. T. Thomas, 39, and Sneed asks a similar amount for personal injuries. Both Sneed and Thomas were employees of the Georgia Power Company. The petitions allege that the two men were burned by an arc created by a short circuit in 4,000-volt lines in a manhole at Ivy street and Auburn avenue on May 31. The short circuit was caused by the tearing up of a cement floor in the sump of a compartment at the telephone company's new building. The men entered the manhole to energize the wires in the new building, it was said.

The injured man was in a weakened condition when employed rushed him to Grady hospital where stitches were taken in his wrist.

Ragsdale To Return To Office Thursday

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale will return to his desk and his official duties Thursday, it was announced Tuesday. He arrived in Atlanta yesterday and notified Acting Mayor G. Everett Millican that he would relieve him Thursday so that Mr. Millican can attend to several pressing out-of-town business engagements. The mayor has been out of the city for the past several weeks on the advice of doctors and Mr. Millican has acted in his stead.

NEW RCA RADIOS SHOWN TO DEALERS

Line Features Screen Grid Tubes in Superhet-erodynes.

New models in the RCA Radios line for the coming season were displayed at a dinner for the dealers in this territory Tuesday night at the Capital City Club, Yancey-Reid Company, Inc., distributor, acting as host.

The new models, which it is understood will be released to the public shortly, are the new screen grid tubes. A feature that attracted considerable comment was the inclusion of a home recording apparatus in one of the instruments which also had advanced radio and phonograph equipment in the same cabinet. By means of a simple microphone apparatus connected to the microphone, it will be possible to record excerpts of favorite broadcasting programs, such as Amos 'n' Andy, the children's recitations and songs, father's speech or other "sound snapshots" in your own home.

Of the four new Radios exhibited, three included the superheterodyne type, the advantages of screen grid tubes. The other instrument was a compact radio frequency type with screen grid radiotrons, in a compact cabinet, built to sell at a very low cost. All of the new Radios were housed in attractive cabinets ranging from the "low boy" to the de luxe "high boy" and the "radio cabinet" style.

Radios have been improved in many ways, such as elimination of AC hum, push-pull amplification, real volume control and simplified tuning, two of the superheterodyne models include a tone color control which permits the reception of programs in their entire, full musical range, or adjustable tone control, and the addition of bass and treble registers. Tone color control also enables the set owner to reproduce the particular acoustical requirements of the room in which the instrument is operating.

The dealers were visibly impressed with the performance of the new models, and particularly noted that the quality of reproduction was the most realistic to date. In addition to E. F. Yancey, who officiated as chairman, Allen B. Mills and Doyle Langford, sales and advertising representatives of the Radios division, addressed the meeting.

The speakers also stressed the importance of the new models and recommended the advantage of the public from the concentration of all the research, engineering and manufacturing resources of the Radios division in one center, Camden, N. J. The economy and efficiency which this new operating plan makes possible will for the first time be passed on in the new models.

Lukeman Urges A New Leader For Memorial

In a letter to The Constitution, Augustus Lukeman, sculptor of the Confederate Memorial in Stone Mountain, takes the position that "a fine, fearless leader" is needed by the Stone Mountain Memorial Association to "rejuvenate it and stimulate new life in the project."

Mr. Lukeman encloses in his letter copy of a reply from Governor John G. Richards of South Carolina to his letter to the governors of thirteen states, urging the something be done toward the resumption of work on the memorial.

Mr. Lukeman's letter to The Constitution is as follows:

"Editor Constitution: You will be interested to receive the enclosed letter from Governor John G. Richards of South Carolina, in reply to one addressed to him as a member of the House of Southern Governors (thirteen in number). You were very kind to publish in your Thursday issue the original correspondence, which called for standard action. We have the opportunity to express my appreciation for your fairness and splendid sense of justice in allowing me so much space in your valuable paper. I sincerely hope you might publish the enclosed, and judging from the general tenor of the correspondence from other southern governors, feel that the others are ready to cooperate with the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association, but only await a call from the president and the board thereof.

"I am again taking this means to call the public's attention to the seriousness of the situation to the board of southern governors and to the general subscribers to the project, all of whom are stockholders and by virtue of their subscriptions are owners in the project. They cannot afford at this time to allow a work of the magnitude that it contemplated on Stone Mountain to become a fiasco by surrendering any part thereof to the self-interested organizations, who do not have the slightest interest in completing the work or allowing it to be deeded over to the city of Atlanta, unless it be so decided as to give them full control.

"From previous public statements it is their intention to destroy the work already done on the mountain, if they can. We have the opportunity to do this in connection with the memorial has proved himself absolutely incompetent both as an artist and in temperament to again head the project to doom it forever to oblivion.

"What the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial Association requires is a firm, fearless leader, who will lead and stimulate new life in the Confederate memorial project; all of which is possible, and I do not hesitate to say that I can name at least a dozen of such leaders in the southland, to which sentiment will no doubt agree.

—AUGUSTUS LUKEMAN.
New York, Aug. 11, 1930.

Letter from Governor Richards.

The letter from Governor Richards, of South Carolina, to Mr. Lukeman, follows:

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA
Office of the Governor
Columbia.

John G. Richards,
Governor, August 6, 1930.

Mr. Augustus Lukeman,
160 West 66th Street,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Lukeman:

I have your letter of August fourth with reference to the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial, and the difficulties that are in the way.

I feel that it would be nothing less than a tragedy for this great piece of work to be stopped. It has not been possible for me to attend any recent meetings of the association, nor do I know of any call that has been made upon the association in this connection.

I am, however, in thorough sympathy with the completion of the memorial and hope that this will be possible.

Yours very truly,
JOHN G. RICHARDS,
Governor.

Now Is the Time to Buy Your Fur Coat

Not Such Values in Over Ten Years As Featured in the August Sale

THIS SMART LAPIN COAT AT $125

Fownes Glove hands are the hands of fashion. A new import just received features the newest styles in 6 and 8-button lengths.

Fownes 6-button slip-on styles in black and white and brown and moire combinations, plique sewn with heavy embroidered backs, at $3.95

Fownes 8-button oversize black kid gloves of soft quality at $4.95

Fownes 6-button slip-on style with novelty flared cuffs, black and white combination, embroidered backs, plique sewn $4.95

Fownes novelty slip-on real kid gloves with Paris point stitching, tailor-made style, black and white, all black, chocolate brown and beige. Contrast piping $3.50

GLOVES—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Roseleaf Lapin in the new vivacious silhouette is so smart this season, with big muffling self-collar and cuffs. A coat that is irresistible in its flattering becomingness, style and fit.

Terms

—that will not inconvenience you will be made—a small amount down and the balance monthly.

FINE FURS—
HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

It's Wise to Buy Blankets Now You Save Generously in the August Sale

$3.98 Wool Mixed Blankets

Double plaid blankets in double-bed size, 70x80 inches, in soft, pretty colorings. Sateen bound. A pair $2.98

$5 Wool Mixed Blankets

Double-bed size, 70x80 inches, in double blankets. Comes in both plaids and plain colors, neatly bound with harmonizing sateen. Pair $3.98

$5.95 Wool Mixed Blankets

Warm, lovely blankets in the regulation double-bed size, 70x80 inches, in lovely rose, blue, orchid, gold and green plaids. Pair $4.98

$10.95 All Wool Blankets

Double blankets in three-quarter bed size, 66x80 inches, $10.95 to $12.50 values really, every pair of them. Pair $8.84

Deposit 50c

—and we will lay blankets aside at these August savings. You may pay the balance in small weekly sums and have your blankets paid for by time you need 'em.

Save on Standard Sheets and Cases

Mohawk Sheets Reduced!

$1.49 Mohawk Sheets. Sizes 72x99 and 91x90 $1.19

$1.79 Mohawk Sheets. Size 81x99. Extra long $1.39

42-Inch Mohawk Cases 35c

45-Inch Mohawk Cases 39c

45-Inch Utica Cases 45c

BLANKETS, BEDDING—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Men's and Boys' Famous Bradley All-Wool Bathing Suits Reduced

Utica Sheets Reduced!

$1.79 Utica Sheets. 81x90-inch, full-bed size $1.49

$1.98 Utica Sheets. 81x99-inch; extra long $1.79

42-Inch Utica Cases 45c

45-Inch Utica Cases 55c

to

1 / 2

Price

Men's and Boys' Store—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

to

1 / 2

Price

Men's and Boys' Store—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

to

1 / 2

Price

Men's and Boys' Store—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

to

1 / 2

Price

Men's and Boys' Store—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

to

1 / 2

Price

Men's and Boys' Store—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

to

1 / 2

Price

Men's and Boys' Store—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

to

1 / 2

Price

Men's and Boys' Store—HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

to

1 / 2

WEAK GRAIN MARKET SENDS COTTON PRICES STILL LOWER

CLOSE IS EASY,
20-23 POINTS OFF

HEAVY SELLING PRESSURE FORCES MANY STOCKS TO NEW 1930 LOWS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

NEW YORK. After a quiet day, the complete close list of today's transactions on the New York Stock Exchange:

Stocks. Sales (in hundreds).

High. Low. Close.

—A—

53 Adams Exp. 241 231 234

2 Am Sung. Ref. 532 521 521

140 Am Tel & Tel. 206 203 203

2 Am Tel. 237 232 233

2 Am Tel. 237 232 233

18 Am Tel B new. w. 120 119 118

8 Am Tel B. 238 237 237

1 Am Type Ftrs. 116 116 116

2 Am Wat. Wks. 84 80 80

3 Am Wat. Wks. 84 80 80

2 Am Wool. P. 26 23 23

24 Amacanda Cop. 493 471 471

6 Am. Corp. W. O. 100 98 98

2 Am. Corp. W. O. 49 49 49

2 Am. Corp. Min. 21 19 19

90 Allegany. 20 19 19

3 Am. Corp. Min. 21 19 19

3 Am. Corp. Min. 21 19 19

90 Allegany. 20 19

SHERLOCK HOLMES—Case of the "Gloria Scott" Holmes Reads Trevor's Story—VI By SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

We flocked into the saloon all talking at once, for we were mad with the feeling we were free. The chaplain knocked in a locker and pulled out a dozen of brown sherry. We cracked the necks of the bottles and were just tossing off the wine...

© 1930 By Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

Then, in an instant, without warning, there came a roar of muskets in our ears, and the saloon was full of smoke. When it cleared the place was a shambles. The soldiers had fired through the skylight...

We were so cowed by the slaughter I think we should have given up the job if it had not been for Prendergast. He bellowed like a bull and rushed for the door with all that were left alive at his heels.

On the poop were the lieutenant and ten of his men. We got on them before they could load, and they stood to it bravely; but we had the upper hand of them and in five minutes it was all over. Prendergast was like a raging devil. He picked up the soldiers as if they had been children, and threw them overboard alive or dead.

DAY IN FINANCE
By R. L. BARNUM

Corn Crop Estimated the Smallest in 29 years. Stock Traders Await General Analysis of Drouth and Its Effect on Crops Since August 1.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Stocks opened lower on the overnight government crop report, with wheat in corn and barley with a month ago with the secretary of agriculture estimating that since August 1 the date covered in the government report a further loss of 100,000,000 bushels had occurred in the corn crop. It was the smallest since 1901. Selling of stocks increased in the early trading under the leadership of the mail order shares, these shares being the most sensitive to curtailed buying power of agricultural sections. Around noon, the market in the stock market ended with a recovery starting but with the volume of trading very light. Traders in stocks seemed to be inclined to wait for the general analysis of the drouth situation and its effects upon crops since August 1 promised today by the chairman of the government crop reporting board for Thursday.

Wall Street understands that this report will be made public Thursday morning, that it will not be statistical but in general terms give the substance of the latest information obtained by the government.

Call money renewed at 2 1/2 per cent against the 2 1/2 ruling for some time. Usually money works firms at this time of year as crop market requirements. This year so far this demand has not appeared. It is understood in banking circles here in Wall Street that recent calling of loans with call money firms reflected increased industrial demand from Chicago and Detroit caused by resumption of automobile production.

Speculative Wall Street is more popular than in many a long day over the general situation and outlook. This is because of the unexpected developments in the agricultural sections. Experts on crops connected with banks and stock exchange houses here in Wall Street are eating their dinners at desks or doing with in an effort to answer inquiries from all quarters.

Information from such sources naturally is contradictory and confusing. Inasmuch as the government crop report shows as of August 1 an increase of 14,000,000 bushels in the total wheat crop compared with a month ago. Because the drop in spring wheat is more than the unexpected improvement in winter wheat, it is agreed that the recent recovery in wheat prices was unimportant. Some further deterioration is expected in the spring wheat crop; but so far that section of the country has suffered comparatively little from bad weather and drouth.

Reports Exaggerated.

Your correspondent spent an hour today with the vice president of a Wall Street bank, one of the largest in the country. The official in question has several farms in Iowa from which he received letters only at the close of last week. These letters referred only in a general way to existing dry weather. The banker economist is confident that if the situation had been as bad as pictured in many reports there would have been definite mention of damage.

This banker-economist, enjoying an international reputation, believes from information at hand that the drouth and damage from bad weather and drouth has been in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and perhaps one or two more Ohio-Mississippi valley states. He believes that in many reports there would have been definite mention of damage.

His banker-economist, enjoying an international reputation, believes from information at hand that the drouth and damage from bad weather and drouth has been in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and perhaps one or two more Ohio-Mississippi valley states. He believes that in many reports there would have been definite mention of damage.

Market Gossip

Daily Views of Wall Street Stock Market by Telegraph.

Cotton Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Cotton values slipped further today due to renewed selling and increased hedging, with small consumption forecast production of 100 million bales. Increases in cotton and cottonseed movement of new crop furnishing the incentives for the selling. There were only 10,000 bales sold after the weather bureau issued a special prediction of rain for middle Mississippi valley, which was not realized. This prediction checked buying and values gave way steadily after that selling, and there was a steady decline in the selling of cottonseed for the summer, as was rewarded literally, adding: "I have no doubt that this experience will be repeated in the aftermath of the existing emergency."

Cottonseed Oil.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Cottonseed oil was only moderately active today, with little buying and selling expected tomorrow. Refiners, brokers and locals were on both sides of the market. The tone as of now is that of a market in a state of indecision closing 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12.—The market for cottonseed oil was fairly steady considering the decline in cottonseed oil.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

PRIME SUMMER yellow oil closed unchanged at 7.55 and prime crude oil closed 10 points higher to 10 net lower.

Futures closed steady: August 7.65; September 7.65; October 7.65; December 7.75.

Social Items

Misses Mildred Pirtle and Irene Pirie of Nashville, Tenn., are visiting Mrs. Walter Candler, at her home on Clifton road in Druid Hills. ***

Miss Anne Harlan leaves today for West Point, Ga., to visit Miss Lucy Lanier before returning to her home in Florence, Ala. She has been the feted guest of Miss Peggy Underwood at their home on Springdale road, in Druid Hills. ***

Mrs. Leverett Walker leaves today for New York, whence she sails Thursday for Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, to spend the remainder of the summer and the fall months. ***

Mrs. Alyce Flood, of St. Petersburg, Fla., is visiting Miss Inez Campbell at her home on Cornell road, and will also visit Mrs. W. M. Gibson, at her home on North Decatur road, before returning to Florida. ***

Mrs. Howell Peoples, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Payne, at their home on Peachtree road. Mr. and Mrs. Payne and their granddaughter, Miss Helen Smith, recently returned from a six weeks' visit to Santa Barbara, Cal. ***

Mr. and Mrs. William N. Ainsworth, Jr., announce the birth of a son August 7, who has been named William N., Jr. ***

Miss Jean Arden has returned from St. Simons Island and is at the Georgia Terrace. ***

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Seaman are at St. Simons Island. ***

Mrs. John T. Toles has returned from a four months' tour of Europe, having sailed the first of May from New York city. ***

Mr. and Mrs. Evelyn Harris return Friday from Blowing Rock, N. C., where they spent the past 10 days. ***

Miss Caroline Paulin has returned from a visit to Moultrie, where she was entertained as the guest of Miss Mary Vereen, who accompanied Miss Paulin and her guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Paulin, on Andrews drive. Miss Paulin, Miss Vereen, and Miss Katherine Howell were among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding previous to the marriage of Miss Alice Alice Hand and Fuller E. Callaway, Jr., in Pelham last week. Miss Vereen's sister, Miss Rosalind Vereen, having been one of the attendants. ***

Mrs. Norman Sharp, Miss Jane Sharp and Miss Martha Lewis, have returned from the Lookout Club at Lookout Mountain, Tenn., where they were among the guests attending the brilliant Black and White ball, given Saturday evening. Friday evening Misses Sharp and Lewis were honor guests at a dinner party given at the Lookout Club by Mrs. Stacy Earnest Hill, of Atlanta. ***

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Garrow and daughters, Misses Marthetta and Georgia Garrow, of Hazleton, Pa., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Black, at 291 McKenzie drive. ***

Mrs. Charles T. Pottinger and children, Teddy and Sanford Pottinger, returning to Atlanta Thursday, after having spent the spring and summer in the Church of the Incarnation at 8:30 o'clock. ***

Mrs. John H. Goff has arrived from Berkeley, Calif., as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Nash, on Sutherland drive. ***

Mrs. Luther Courtney Brown has returned to her home in Boulevard Park after a delightful visit with Mrs. H. C. Loyd, in Birmingham, Ala. ***

Mrs. James J. Goodwin has returned from a two week visit to Atlantic City, N. J. ***

Mr. and Mrs. Jock Cutler, Jr., and sons, Jock Cutler, III, and Duncan Cutler, and their mother, Mrs. Duncan Brown, leave this week for Macomb, where they will be the future wife of next year. Mr. and Mrs. Cutler have made their home in Ansley Park, coming to Atlanta from Macon, which had been their former place of residence. ***

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGahee motorized to Indian Springs Saturday to spend a few days. ***

Mrs. Mamie Ruth Weems is visiting relatives in Calhoun this week. ***

Mrs. T. L. Smith and Mrs. J. A. Doster were the guests of friends in Rome the past week. ***

Mrs. R. L. Smith has returned to her home in Lanett, Ala., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith on Stewart avenue. ***

Miss Evelyn Smith and Mildred Smith have returned to Birmingham after a visit of two weeks with relatives in the city. ***

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Meadors left Friday for Jacksonville after a visit with Mrs. J. W. Pittman, in West End. ***

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Raine and Miss Mamie Raine and John Raine have leased their home on West Peachtree street, and will move the latter part of August to the Georgian Terrace hotel. John Raine will enter the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn., in September, enrolling at the college from which his father, Mr. Raine, was graduated. Miss Mamie Raine expects to spend the fall months in New York city. ***

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Pitts, of New Orleans, La.; Misses Irene New and Mary Lou New, and D. F. New, of Carrollton, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Monroe, of Athens, arrive in

SECRETARY HAWKINS ::

In Search of the Fiddler ::

By Robert Franc Schukers

SALE
PIED PIPER SCHOOL SHOES for Misses and Girls

$3.87 $4.75

Combinations or Plain Leathers. Broken sizes.

Pied Piper Shoes
Sixth Floor

GEORGE MUSE CLOTHING CO.

"SYMPHONIE"

the powder-blend that brings your type its richest, fullest beauty!

ARE you still searching for the powder-shade that best becomes your blonde or brunette type? Are you more and more bewildered by the dozens of new tints and tones in face powder? Then here's beauty-news you'll welcome!

Instead of "coloring" the complexion with face powder, use the one shade that matches and enhances the underlying flesh-tones. "Symphonie" . . . the newest Armand face powder . . . is blended for this very purpose—to discover those soft, translucent, basic tints and emphasize their beauty. On this "Symphonie" foundation, employ the rouge that suits your hair and eyes. Then behold the charming "naturalness" . . . a skin-tone that is really yours!

"Symphonie" blend is found only in Armand complexion powder. Follow directions in the package for applying, and make this magic test in tint today!

ARMAND
"SYMPHONIE" POWDER
—with entrancing fineness of texture!

Armand "Symphonie" Powder
(or your choice of four standard tints), $1 the box. Zanzibar tone in Armand rouge and lipstick is the perfect color-note for "Symphonie."

© 1930 by The Armand Co., Inc.

For Normal Girlhood

"My daughter Magdalene did not seem to develop as she should. At times she had no pep at all and couldn't get her school work very easily. For four years we doctored her off and on. Then a friend told us how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her years ago, so I got a bottle for Magdalene. Her nerves are quieting, her general health is better and she is now as normal as other girls."—Mrs. J. Bartholdi, Thompson's Addition, The Dalles, Oregon.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

I AM SORRY TO BOTHER YOU, LITTLE BOYS —

WON'T YOU COME IN SIR?

I WANT TO ASK YOU A QUESTION.

ABOUT A LITTLE BOY, HIS NAME

IS HERMAN. HE PLAYS THE VIOLEEN.

I AM LOOKING FOR HEEM. IT WAS I

WHO TEACH HEEM TO PLAY VIOLEEN

WHEN HE WAS OH, SUCH A LITTLE BOY.

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

LEETLE HERMAN — HE LEARN QUEEK,

YAS, BECAUSE HE HAVE THE GEEPT.

AND I-AH, SO PROUD OF LEETLE HERMAN.

BUT ONE DAY HE IS TAKE AWAY. I

FOLLOW, FROM CEETY TO VELAGE I

FOLLOW, FROM OLD COUNTRY TO THEES

NEW COUNTRY —

ROAD BODY PROTESTS 'SPEED TRAP' AT WACO

Bankhead Association Seeks To Have Town Revise Its 10-Mile Speed Limit.

Complaints of motorists on the Bankhead highway against the village authorities at Waco, Ga., have been received with harshly imposed unreasonable fines on tourists and prominent residents of this state and Alabama without just provocation have been brought to the attention of the mayor and council of Waco by the Atlanta-Birmingham branch of the Bankhead Highway Association and steps will be taken to curb the nullities immediately, it was announced Tuesday.

In a letter addressed to C. T. Drew, town marshal at Waco, the president of the association pointed out the "absurdity" of trying to maintain a speed limit of 10 miles per hour and expressed the hope that the association might count on the marshal's co-operation in establishing and enforcing a more reasonable limit.

A representative of the Atlanta Motor Club sent out recently to investigate conditions in Waco reported that he was not aware of having passed through the town until he reached Tallapoosa, which is eight miles beyond. There were no signs marking the city limits and none fitting the speed limit of 10 miles per hour, he said. The inference was seen to be that the speed limit was not so much to protect the lives and property of Waco citizens from reckless drivers as to entrap unsuspecting motorists and to mullet them of $5 and $10 contributions to the village treasury, the president pointed out.

The motor club representative held a conference with the mayor and several members of the Waco Monday at which it was agreed that the 10-mile speed limit was unreasonable. Promise also was given that the town council at an early meeting would be urged to place readable signs at the town limits as well as signs announcing the new speed limit.

Dr. H. D. Brookshire At Druid Hills Tonight

Dr. Henry T. Brookshire, pastor of the First Baptist church of Elberton, will be the speaker at the mid-week meeting of the Druid Hills Baptist church at 8 o'clock tonight. Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor, announced Tuesday.

Dr. Brookshire is well known in Atlanta, having served as pastor of the Woodmen Avenue Baptist church for several years. He has also been pastor of Central Baptist church, Americus, and the First Baptist church, Barnesville.

The song service will be led by Duncan McKinlay, Warners, college mate of Dr. Brookshire, etc. Miss Unzueta will preside and introduce the speaker. The many friends of Dr. Brookshire in Atlanta are cordially invited to attend the meeting tonight.

Dr. Newton left the city yesterday to fill an engagement at the Athens "Y" camp at Tallulah Falls. He will return to the city Friday.

New School Calendar Is Adopted by Board

The annual calendar for the Atlanta public school system was adopted by the board of education Tuesday afternoon.

Schools will open for the new term September 8. The first holiday is October 6 for the Southeastern Fair, and the next the Thanksgiving holidays, November 27-28.

Christmas holidays begin at 11 o'clock Friday, December 19, and re-open Monday, January 6.

Schools close for the term on Friday, June 5.

Skin Soft—Glowing Gloriously Alive

Oxygen Baths

Radox, the Youth-Renewing,
Healthful, Energizing English
Bath Salts, Now Obtainable in U. S. A.

Radox not only combines the same valuable properties of many of the world-famous Spas of Europe but it also releases a volume of Oxygen in your bath water—and everyone knows what wonderful effects Oxygen has on the system!

Never before have you ever felt so refreshed and soothed, your entire system is stimulated to new life and activity.

And what a beautifier! Radox is—your whole body surface is left captivatingly smooth and soft as silk, just radiating alluring, youthful loveliness. Radox thoroughly cleanses your millions of pores of harmful acids and fatty deposits—no more blackheads or blemishes.

With a smile with new animation from top to toe. And don't forget, girls, Radox furnishes a perfect body deodorant—just enough fragrance to enchant!

Get large package of Radox today at Jacobs' Pharmacy or any drug store, enough for 8 baths, and even if the cost of Radox Bath doesn't amaze and thrill—money returned.—(adv.)

Leaders Hope to Avert City's Financial Crisis

Hope that a financial crisis in the Atlanta city government may be averted and that yet paid their regular September bills, was expressed Tuesday following a conference between Acting Mayor G. Everett Milligan, Councilman Wiley L. Moore, chairman of the finance committee, and B. Graham West, city controller.

September payrolls will total $580,000 and if the money is to be forthcoming the following must be rigidly adhered to, according to the opinion of officials:

1. Energetic efforts of the marshal's office to collect all back taxes possible.

Priority must be given payrolls over all other obligations of the government.

3. Immediate borrowing of $125,000, the amount left of the $1,000,000 which the borough can borrow under the city charter.

Mr. West was confident that the crisis can be stemmed, if there is full cooperation.

City Traffic Problem To Be Tackled Today

About 40 representatives of approximately 14 leading civic organizations of Atlanta will confer on the city's traffic problems at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at a luncheon sponsored by the Atlanta Safety Council in the civic room of the Ansley hotel.

C. C. Whittaker, chairman of the marshal's traffic committee which organized a survey of conditions a year ago and submitted a detailed report with recommendations to the city government, will urge concerted action of all civic bodies in an effort to induce municipalities to act upon the recommendations.

Mr. Whittaker also will discuss his plans for the alleviation of traffic conditions which, he says, should be controlled and regulated by a special traffic commission acting in concert with an advisory board of engineers who, unlike the incumbents, will have some technical grasp of the problems they are called upon to solve.

Major-elect James L. Key is numbered among the guests invited by the safety council to attend the luncheon.

Sacred Harp Singers To Meet Here Friday

Approximately 100 singers from four southern states are expected to attend the annual Sacred Harp Singing convention which begins Friday at the Fulton county courthouse, according to S. C. Mann, chairman of the local songsters. The Sacred Harp organization is approaching its hundredth birthday, having been formed at the 18th Southern Musical convention. It is made up of church choirs from all over the country.

The best singers in each community have been selected and will be sent to Atlanta. Delegates from Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and various communities in Georgia have cordially invited to attend the meeting tonight.

Dr. Newton left the city yesterday to fill an engagement at the Athens "Y" camp at Tallulah Falls. He will return to the city Friday.

Third Ward Citizens Indorse T. C. McLaurin

Resolutions requesting Alderman T. C. McLaurin to nominate Thomas C. McLaurin for the unexpired term of Councilman W. R. Rountree were adopted by citizens of the third ward Tuesday night in a mass meeting which approximately 110 were present.

In accepting the endorsement Mr. McLaurin said that if he were nominated by the third ward delegation and elected by council he would do everything in his power to "obtain a square deal" for every citizen in a ward.

The meeting was sponsored by the Boulevard Improvement Association.

Twelfth Ward Club To Elect Officers

Election and installation of officers for the ensuing year will take place at the monthly meeting of the Twelfth Ward Improvement Club at 8 o'clock Thursday night in the Kirkwood Masonic hall.

Addresses by L. T. Y. Nash, DeKalb county commissioner of roads, and W. E. Clarke, architect and chief of construction for the city of Atlanta, on the Fair street improvements which are going forward rapidly will be features of the meeting.

The present officers are D. C. Akers, president; W. S. Morrison, treasurer, and Roy A. Brooks, secretary.

Georgians Opposed To Train Service Change

Representatives of Macon and other cities along the Southern railway between there and Hazelhurst Tuesday appeared before the Georgia public service commission protesting against a change in the schedule of the "Joe Brown" local train between the points.

The railroad has asked permission to move the train out of Macon three hours later than the present schedule. The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, saying the train was one of the best shopping trains, contended the change would be detrimental to business.

A decision of the case was deferred.

Kentucky Officials Visit State Capitol

Newton Bright, Kentucky state commissioner of agriculture, and R. G. Higdon, reporter of the Kentucky court of appeals for the past 19 years, were visitors at the Georgia state capital Tuesday.

Mr. Bright, who arrived Monday for the conference of southern agricultural attaches, was a guest of Commissioneer Eugene Talmadge. Mr. Higdon called on the state court reporters and studied the Georgia system of publishing decisions of the appellate courts.

Church To Sponsor Barbecue Saturday

An old-fashioned Georgia barbecue, sponsored by the Payne Memorial Methodist church, will be given from 11 o'clock Saturday morning until 8 o'clock at night at the reservoir at Water Works Knoll. Tickets will be 50 cents.

TOBACCO SALES GROW AS PRICES IMPROVE

South Georgia Reports More Optimism as New Week Starts.

TIFTON, Ga., Aug. 12.—(P)—The bright leaf tobacco auction here, which has led the state in total sales since the season opened, today was still flooded with offerings with indications that a still larger week's auction would result.

All three warehouses were overflowing yesterday with prices about the same as the week previous, better grades holding their own and inferior quality bringing less.

Warehousemen here believe that two more weeks will see the end of the selling season at Tifton.

The Imperial Tobacco Company's smoking leaf plant here has been in operation on a 24-hour basis for the past week to keep up with the large quantity of tobacco purchased. About 1,000 negroes are employed in the plant which has handled approximately 1,000,000 pounds of leaf this season.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Aug. 12.—(P)—Receipts from the tobacco market here ran only about 30,000 pounds but prices were improved, the average being between 14 and 15 cents a pound for a better quality.

There was a limited quantity of the inferior leaf which has been selling between 3 and 10 cents a pound. Many baskets were bringing 20 cents per pound.

CAIRO, Ga., Aug. 12.—(P)—Today's offerings on the Cairo tobacco market were 139,600 pounds and was sold at an average of 11 cents a pound. Monday's sale was the largest in the history of the local market.

QUITMAN, Ga., Aug. 12.—(P)—A total of 129,124 pounds of tobacco was sold today on the floors of the two Quitman warehouses bringing an average price of 13.25 cents per pound.

Medium and good grade tobaccos continue to bring good prices but the poorer grades are bringing low prices. Prices ranged today for good leaf from 15 to 25 cents per pound.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., Aug. 12.—(P)—A special crop of $11,632.45 was distributed to farmers by the Federal Land Bank at an average of 11.23 cents a pound for $93,258.15, an average of $13 plus.

Only partial sales were made at one warehouse and two others were completely bid out, it being estimated that a half million pounds were unsold for the day.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Aug. 12.—(P)—Monday's tobacco sales in this city are officially reported at 721,333 pounds for $93,258.15, an average of $13 plus.

Only partial sales were made at one warehouse and two others were completely bid out, it being estimated that a half million pounds were unsold for the day.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 12.—Judge John J. Strickland, for 51 years a practicing lawyer in this section, has been elected president of the Georgia Bar Association of the western judicial circuit, comprising Clarke, Oconee and Walton counties. Judge Strickland was the first president of the Athens Bar Association of the Athens years ago.

He was stressed that farm relief begins with a farm being self-supporting; that each farm must raise all the feed needed for its human beings and its livestock; that any farm is in trouble that looks to the profits from one crop to pay all the expenses of that farm; that the farm loan association is not entitled to be called a farmer; and that farm loan associations must bear the responsibility logically of making sound loans of collecting the loans, and of seeing that no foreclosures become necessary.

John S. Gilmer of Dalton served

Heads New Bar Group

Judge John J. Strickland, of Athens, first president of the Bar Association of the western judicial circuit.

NEW BAR ASSOCIATION HEADED BY STRICKLAND

Judge John J. Strickland, of Athens, first president of the Bar Association of the western judicial circuit.

Collins and Echols Made Councilors in Junior Order

MACON, Ga., Aug. 12.—(P)—The Georgia council, Junior Order United American Mechanics, in session here Tuesday, elected Elberton, Ga., for its next meeting place and elected a slate of officers to serve during the next 12 months. The next convention will be held on the second Tuesday in August, 1931.

M. D. Collins, of Fairburn, was elected state councilor. The other officers will be state vice councilor, Virgil Echols, Atlanta; chaplain, John S. Wilder, Savannah; treasurer, O. H. Puckett, Atlanta; conductor, William H. Davis, Augusta; warden, H. W. Dunn, Mableton; inside sentinel, E. T. Sweet, Waycross; outside sentinel, B. E. Smith, Dallas; and recorder, A. Wright, Atlanta. Mr. Wright became junior past councilor with the elevation of Mr. Collins to the office of councilor.

Admitting that the order takes part in politics when "people running for office do not follow the high ideals of our order," A. Wright said, "We pride ourselves on having a strain of pure Anglo-Saxon blood in this section of the country," he said.

"We have not yet experienced any encroachment of foreign labor in this section, and we intend to do our part in keeping it so."

Mrs. Sarah W. Johnson, Newark, N. J., a member of the national council, extended greetings from the Daughters of America.

The Daughters of America, an auxiliary organization, postponed its election until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Junior Order also will meet again tomorrow morning. Today's program was opened with a strain of pure Anglo-Saxon blood in this section of the country," he said.

"We have not yet experienced any encroachment of foreign labor in this section, and we intend to do our part in keeping it so."

Mrs. Sarah W. Johnson, Newark, N. J., a member of the national council, extended greetings from the Daughters of America.

The trial was started soon after Dr. Grenoble was convicted of practicing medicine here without a license.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

He concluded he had been here from Jacksonville, Fla., especially to treat the mother and daughter, and that a Georgia license was not necessary. The state, however, contended he had violated the unlawful practice act, and the jury agreed.

Judge H. B. Strange, instructed Sheriff Marsh to call more veniremen.

INSTALLMENT V.

Sam read no more that evening. What did that friendly telephone conversation signify? Was Miss Hart unlike other American girls? She must be. Would he dare ring up Miss Hart after a proper lapse of time? How long should he wait? There wasn't China: it was America. And he was an American. . . . A moment and he shook his head at this reflection. He was nothing of the sort. He was a "Chink," . . . But at least he could send her some flowers. Of course! No possible of course in the Magnificent flowers, too: She must learn that he did everything in a princely manner.

A month had passed. Trees had leaved out. The side street where Alice Hart roamed was dark at night; the branches of its elms met overhead and cast heavy shadow along the curb. Sam Lee stopped his car midway of the block and waited.

Alice was prompt, as usual. She materialized from the gloom, seated herself at Sam's side, and they were off.

In a breathless, earnest voice she thanked him for some gift he had sent her that day.

"Did you like it?"

"You know I liked it. But how did you cultivate such taste in women's things? A girl should distrust any man who can select dresses, it's an indication of bad character."

Sam laughed, his companion drew her shoulders together, hugged her, leaned closer to him.

Following that first telephone call, Sam had sent Alice a box of flowers: they were the finest, the longest stemmed roses she had ever seen. A gift so expensive demanded acknowledgment, so she had called him again. They had chatted at great length that night, and somehow she had mentioned that car of his. In answer to his difficult invitation she had said, of course, she would enjoy a ride, any evening. That had been the beginning. Sam was not doing so well in his studies now as heretofore but he was improving. He could not afford at any time coming to Eastern and he was getting to know the roads outside the city by heart.

Alice's work at art school was confining: she was a country girl and she loved fresh air. These restful excursions had proved a blessed relief and she often declared it was nice to be in the country. Sam Lee, Spud Gorham or a Kicker Wade, but dependable, solid, comfortable friend who possessed a serious mind and who respected girls.

Alice talked a good deal about her work, her ambitions and her sacrifices. Miss Hart was always in deep earnest about her art, but other matters treated with indifference.

Sam had treated him with an odd mixture of friendliness and constraint; at first she had appeared to be attracted to him, nevertheless she had been suspicious, fearful of his advances. When he failed to make any, her shyness wore off, and at times, eager to go out with him but diffident about being seen in public places and explained this on the ground that she lacked the means to dress becomingly.

Their friendship had proven very wonderful, deeply intoxicating to the boy; it had expanded him, he was a different person.

Alice had treated him with an odd mixture of friendliness and constraint; at first she had appeared to be attracted to him, nevertheless she had been suspicious, fearful of his advances. When he failed to make any, her shyness wore off, and at times, eager to go out with him but diffident about being seen in public places and explained this on the ground that she lacked the means to dress becomingly.

One evening, however, she did come to go with him, still a little shy, but where they were not likely to be recognized and there discovered an orchestra which played discordantly when nickels were fed to it. Alice was surprised to learn that Sam could not dance and she volunteered to teach him; there passed the place. It was great fun and Alice declared he was rapidly becoming one of the best dancers she knew, if not the very best.

Please as she was in most ways, the girl possessed one characteristic which disappointed Sam, she had a discontented mind and suffered periods of intense despondency; she was likely to break out in a vitriolic and utterly remorseless tirade against her luck, her condition, her lack of opportunity, her lack of ambition, all amounting almost to a complex, mystified Sam, for he had never known the pains of self-denial, and poverty in Chinese eyes is no social bar sinister—not even a handicap. When he made this plain to her, she was surprised she could not believe that he was in earnest or that he could cherish any real regard for her, a mere nobody. To be sure, she was a student, an intellectual, an artist, but what of that? Those things might count in China, but not here.

Although she always dressed to Sam neatly and tastefully dressed, she nevertheless was overconscious of her poor appearance so he began giving her little luxuries which he felt sure she could not afford to buy: a box of a few pairs of gloves, silk stockings and the like. When she protested he assured her they were mere trifles.

"Trifles to you, a wild extravagance to me," she told him. Sam smiled faintly. "It seems to me you have so much."

"In Heaven's name what? Health, health, a fair amount of good looks. How much will they bring?"

"The quest of knowledge is the most honorable of pursuits. You'll be a great artist."

"Never! Why? Because I won't have the chance. It takes time and money to become an artist. I'll go back to Bartonville with a smattering of art, just enough experience to make her everything else, and then I'll have cooking, washing, playing nursemaid. I see it coming and—I'd rather die."

"We have a proverb which runs, 'The more unlikely I am to be successful, the more diligently will I study.' It's quite a fine thing to be steeped in the sayings and the philosophies of ancient, thoughtful people: we should be exposed to them. We Chinese children are taught stories, as well as aphorisms, and many of them have to do with scholars who acquired culture, made much of themselves under difficulties infinitely greater than yours. They're a spur to diligence, one of the very first stories we tell is about the boy who had no money for a lamp and caught fireflies to light the pages of his book."

"Your stories, I notice, are all about boys."

"There are too many women in China."

"There are too many women everywhere and I'm one of the surplus. No fireflies come our way. We dream—of Paris, Life and go back to our Bartonvilles and our patent wringers again." Again the speaker uttered a resounding sound.

Following this conversation Sam had failed to present Alice with gifts somewhat more substantial than those before. Today he had sent her a dress and in view of her ardent gratitude he had, on occasion, later in the evening, to brush another matter which he had given much thought.

He began cautiously by telling Alice something about his father. He had never said much about Lee Ying but the informer had that the imposter was a man of some but untrustworthy charities. Lee Ying did much to help those deserving of assistance, regardless of race: he was deaf to no appeal. It was his money, for instance, which the speaker lent so liberally to the man who honored him with their friendship and his father approved of the loans. The old man was forever urging his son to do more for those less happily situated than he, arguing that help at this time might be of inestimable value to them in later life. Some wonder, is it? Alice would take it amiss if he offered her the same sort of assistance as her redoubtable fellows like Gorham and Wade. "You mean—money?"

"Exactly. Understand, it's not mine, it's his father's. I can't consider it a privilege to anyone engaged in the pursuit of a higher science."

"I couldn't do that," Alice exclaimed hurriedly. "It feels wretched enough at letting you do as much as you've done, but I don't know if you've found out. Please don't tell him anything, to me: I don't want him, or anybody, to know."

"Have you told your people about me?"

"Good Lord, no! They're only looking for an excuse to send for me." (Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.) (Cont. on Tomorrow.)

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

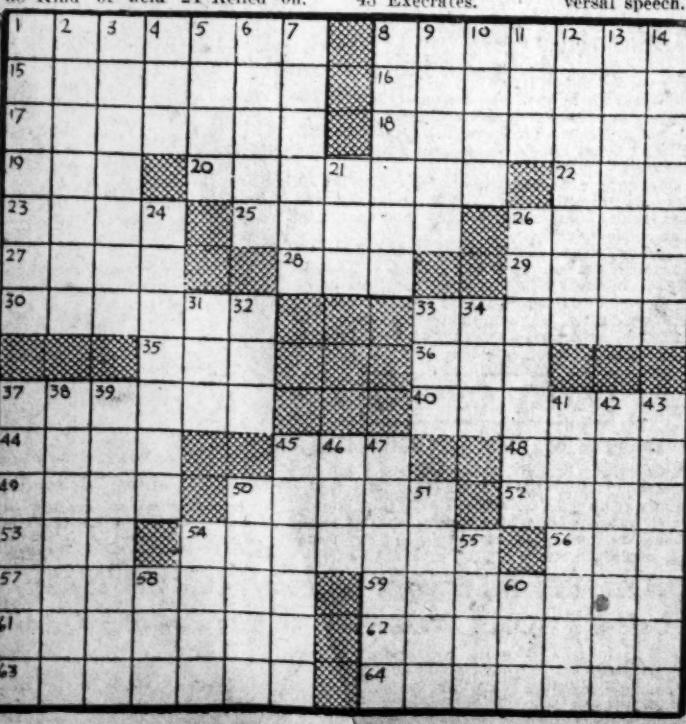

ACROSS.

1 Theatrical companies. occurring in juices of some fruits. 2 Ambitious per 52 Gnash. 15 Reseed. 53 Man's name. 16 Pertaining to United. 54 Swaps. 17 A fixed camp. 55 British, African. 18 Royal Abodes. 59 Certain teeth. 19 Nipponees. 61 Repeating. 20 North African 63 Waxen ointments. 22 Prefix: thrice. 64 Sends out of the country. 25 Lovely places. 65 DOWN. 26 Regretted. 1 Filled at ease. 27 Always. 3 Anti. 28 Affirmation. 4 Tree. 29 Gaelic. 30 Subtract. 5 Section. 31 O'er. 32 Dolt. 33 Bird. 34 Ruminants. 40 Valued. 44 Sheltered side. 45 Hillside, gazing. 48 City in northwestern North America. 49 Grit. 50 Kind of acid 24 Relied on.

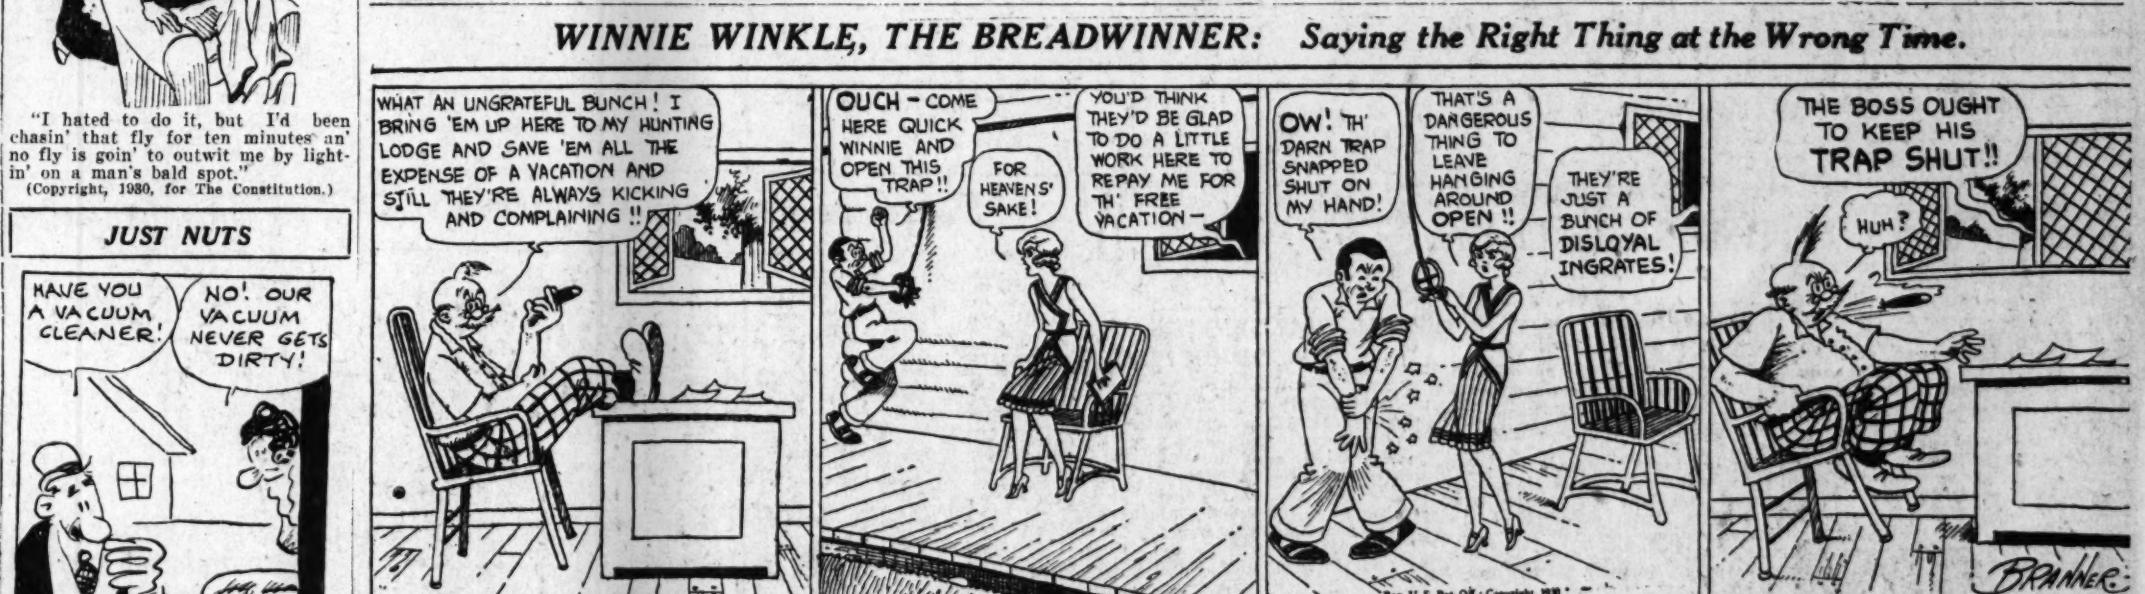

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle.

ZOLA SHAWL DAME
OPAL HORAE ETAL
NEVE REALS ATEL
ENEMIES TSARINA
BOW AZOTE
INFINITE ROSTER
LAIC SCORE UTICA
INN SHOOTER TRI
UNITE TITS ELUL
MYSELF SACKLESS
SLEET AIL
FLOTSAM ALDINES
LODGE SMALL PELI
OLAF TELEO SAKKE
EASY STEEP ERST

26 Taking up sal. 45 Jeweler's 31 Greek letter. 46 In music: 32 Sunburn. 47 Distracted. 33 Conflict. 48 Latched. 37 Pertaining to a 50 A state. 38 A secret order. 51 Year for. 39 A greenish 54 Child (used mineral. 55 Who re. 55 Cut off. 40 Medical officer. 58 Long period. 42 Noted. 60 Proposed universal speech.

MOON MULLINS—OH, SAY, CAN YOU SEE?

GASOLINE ALLEY—EVERYBODY HAPPY—ALMOST

SPORTS SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

THREE PAGES.

ATLANTA, GA., WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 13, 1930.

PAGE FIFTEEN

'Pa' Reaches New York Claiming Title and Seeking Strib-Max Go

CUBS NOSE OUT ROBINS TO HOLD SLIM LEAD

PA, IN GOTHAM,
CLAIMS CROWN AND SEEKS MAX

Berlin Bout "On," Say Pa and Jeff Dickson.

By Vic Bienstock.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—"Pa" Stribling, father, trainer and manager of Young Stribling, Georgia's heavyweight king, arrived here today from Florida to begin the Pa-Berlin fight in Paris, claiming the world's heavyweight championship for his son. With him was Jefferson Davis Dickson, Jr., promoter of the Stribling-Scott fight, with whom he has made a gentleman's agreement for a fight between Young Stribling and Max Schmeling in Berlin next summer.

Dickson, who is a native of Jackson, Miss., is here on a flying visit to confer with Joe Jacobs, one of Schmeling's managers, and to handle other business matters as well as make his first trip to Jackson in eight years.

Young Stribling fought for Dickson five times, he proudly declared, without losing a bout, and has a contract between the two parties.

The proposed fight in Berlin, according to Dickson and Pa Stribling, will easily draw 100,000 people, since "W. L." has attracted an enviable following in London and Paris which would meet him in Berlin to see the bigger end.

"We claim the championship," Pa Stribling said. "We have just as much right to it as Sharkey or Schmeling. We're willing to fight Schmeling, and give him the bigger end. We're willing to fight anybody."

LET HAND HEAL.

As to future bouts, "W. L." will not fight for several months. Pa said, in order to give his left hand a chance to heal. The hand was injured in the Von Post fight, and had to be "closed up," Pa said, before the Scott fight. It needs about three months rest in order to heal completely.

The Georgia fighter has gained about 10 pounds in weight on his diet of raw vegetables, and is in excellent condition. Part of this increase in weight was due to his drinking two bottles of ale daily until a week before the fight, he said.

It was difficult to get Pa and Dickson to talk of much else than the Stribling-Scott fight. Indeed, Dickson enacted the whole match in his cabin on the beach, while Pa, who was busy watching the skyline of New York as it glided by through the port hole, corrected him whenever he erred or was guilty of omission.

NEW MAN.

"W. L. is absolutely a new man," Dickson asserted. "You won't recognize him."

The boxer arrives here Friday on a Aquilino with a party of friends. His father was scheduled to take the same boat, but cancelled his reservations on it in order to join Dickson on the Paris and talk business.

This evening Pa is having a conference with Dickson and Joe Jacobs regarding the proposed Stribling-Schmeling bout. He will remain here five days after which he will proceed home to Atlanta.

One of Pa Stribling's most prized possessions is a small book of action pictures of the finale of the Stribling-Scott fight, which, when twirled rapidly, give the effect of real motion pictures. He exhibited the device at least 10 times while the ship was sailing from quarantine to the pier.

Mrs. Stribling met him at his hotel.

Florida Seeks Stribling for Bout.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 12.—W. L. Young Stribling, famous Georgia heavyweight, the man whom Floridians regard as the rightful owner of the crown now worn by Max Schmeling, will fight in Palm Beach during the height of the coming winter season if plans set in motion today by Palm Beach sportsmen go through.

Hugh Martin, American Legion fight promoter and prominent in Palm Beach fight circles, announced late tonight that he is seeking to sign Stribling for a fight here this winter and that he was of the opinion that Pa Stribling would accept his offer, which will be underwritten by the millionaire sportsmen of Palm Beach and New York, who have been seeking to obtain such a bout for several years.

Martin sent Pa Stribling the following telegram:

BRADDOCK STILL AWAY.

Jimmy Braddock, the New Jersey heavyweight, seems to be just a mistake as a first flight boxer.

For two years critics have insisted that Jimmy was the next logical challenger. All the recognized authorities insisted that Jimmy had the stuff.

But Jimmy has just lost another decision. This time it was in Boston to Babe Hunt, of Oklahoma.

Babe is a nice big boy, but has not been taken seriously in the division. He holds a decision over Young Stribling—an off-foul—in 1929 out west. Stribling previously had outpointed him in Wichita on the occasion of returning to the ring after the Sharkey fight and a siege with dentists.

So one may safely conclude that Jimmy just lacks championship class. One who has met Braddock suspects he was seriously considered on account of his pleasing manners. A more personable young man one never met.

QUICK KNOCKOUTS.

Answering a telephone inquiry: As far as can be found in the books, the record for a quick knockout was set when Bennie Levine, of Newark, knocked out Tony Lambert, also of Newark, in 15 seconds of the first round. Jack Dempsey once knocked out Fred Fulton in 17 seconds.

PELICANS TAKE PAIR AND EVEN CRACKER SERIES

New Orleans Wins First
Game, 4-2, and Second,

5-3.

By Ed Danforth.

Luck turned at last for the Pelicans on Spiller turf yesterday. After failing to win even one in the last seven played here, the old enemy from New Orleans wheeled in his tracks and turned back the Crackers in two straight half games.

The Pels won the first one, 4 to 2, and took the second, 5 to 3. And Monday was no day for any team to play a double-header with the Crackers. Tuesday was no day for any club to run into Larry Gilbert's gang. Everything the Pelicans did was right, even the breaks and were long overdue at that.

Fortunately, the home nine selected Ladies' Day on which to lose two games in a lump. The suffering was not so intense in the grandstand and at the box office, but the New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

The double victory squared the series; the ancient rivals play it off today at 3 o'clock. And following the Pels the Mobile Bears, prominent orphans, come out for a week-end series that should be a good show of skill and profit in the league standing.

For our club was booted back into fourth place of the Pels' belated show of strength.

Whitey Glazner was credited with the first contest and Joe Kiefer with losing it. The Pels worked up an early lead of 3 to 1 and so the score stood when the Crackers came to bat in the eighth. Langford, Sheehan and Johnson hustled and beat out hits to fill the sacks with men down. It looked like the home side was about to score one, but Jim Rosenthal pushed one into center field. Langford scored after the catch, but Sheehan played it safe and held second, which no doubt was a good guess. Then Shirley lifted a long foul tip back of first that Jourdan collected. Sheehan had a chance and tried for third on it, but was thrown out on a very close play. That broke up the Crackers' big effort. They died trying, which is the way to get licked all after.

GIRLS DELIGHTED.

They were there to enjoy the game no matter who won—if indeed they knew when all was over. The stands were packed too. It looked like the brave days of the 1920s here. New Orleans girls always fill the lot.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE No. 27

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

It was apparent that the man was wooing the maid, and Tarzan needed no knowledge of their spoken language to interpret the gestures, the glances and the facial expressions of eager pleading upon the part of the man, or the cold aloofness upon the part of the girl.

Sometimes a tilt of her head presented a partial view of her profile to the ape-man and he guessed that she was very beautiful, but the face of the young man with her reminded him of the face of Pamba the rat. It was evident that the courtship was not progressing very well.

As the rat-faced man's voice rose in anger, the girl rose haughtily and with a cold word turned away. Then the man leaped to his feet from the bench upon which they had been sitting, seized her roughly by the wrist and clapped a hand across her mouth, dragging her into an embrace.

The man bent the girl's frail body back upon the bench. His lips were close to hers when there was a sudden jarring of the ground in front of him and he raised astonished eyes upon the figure of a half-naked giant. Steel-gray eyes looked into his besidy black ones.

REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

Duplexes for Rent 73

6 ROOMS, modern, furnace, garage, near 688 Piedmont Ave., N. E. HE. 1531-2. 6-8 rooms, modern, garage, furnace, 74 Peachtree Street, N. E. HE. 1515-2. ST. CHARLES AVE.—5 ROOMS, GARAGE, PORCHES, WA. 1171. DECATUR—Adults, 4-room apt. with owner, heat, water, furnace, gas, HE. 4929.

Apartments, Furnished 74

Upper Duplex—65 Ponce de Leon Place-corner Virgil in Circle—5 rooms including 2 bedrooms and back porches. Steel heat—$65.00. In circle, corner—moderately attractive. Can be seen by appointment.

NAT KAISER INVESTMENT CO., 1401 Peachtree St., N. E. Atlanta.

1401 City & Son Bank Bldg. WA 1284. 536 N. BOULEVARD—Furn. and unfurn. apt., 2 & 3 and 4 rooms, $30 to $50. References required. No recent apta. only to responsible parties. See Janitor or phone WA. 4274.

WILL share with business couple large, modern apt. on Ponce de Leon car line. Fighting terms, free, exclusive use of kitchen.

80 12TH ST., N. E.—Attractively furnished 3-room apt., private entrance, gas, water, phone, heat, etc. $45.00. See Janitor.

WILL furn. from $15.00 to $25.00, 2 bedrooms, also small apts., $22.50 and $45. 519 Blvd. N. E. Apt. 11.

WILL RENT small apartment by week, month, or year, all conveniences. HE. 1538 or WA. 1866-4.

801 P. DE LEON—4 rms., sing. pch., walnut, mohair furn., linen, silver. WA. 4406. HE. 4413.

535 BRIARCLIFF—Bedroom, private bath, breakfast room, kitchenette, sink, $30. JA. 4265-W.

ONE room, kitchenette, apt., completely furnished, linen, silver, etc. 683 Spring Street, N. E. 2nd floor, $25.00.

ONE and 2-room 1/2 nets apta. private bath, wash, etc. 1111-1225 BRIARCLIFF PLACE

2204 PEACHTREE RD. 8th floor, $25.00.

8 COLLIER ROAD

Janitor on Premises.

Apartments, Unfurnished 74

LA SALLE COURT 907 Piedmont Ave., N. E. Lower duplex completely furnished, six rooms, 2nd floor, $45.00. 3 bedrooms and small, 3 rooms suitable for Tech students. Will lease for 6 mo. or year to family. No pets. References required. Address R-104, Constitution.

CALL MRS. CORBIN, JA. 5414-J. RANKIN-WHITTEN REALTY CO., WA. 0636. 61 Forsyth, N. W.

THE MARYLAND APTS.

4-NXLEY PARK—Adequate best kept apta. in Atlanta; 4 and 5 rms., large, bright, modern, 2nd floor, $45.00. Furnished, electric, porches, garage. Adults: $75.00 required. rates reduced. See Janitor. 75 E. 17th St. HE. 1288-M.

High-Class, Modern Apts., personally owned. 1111-1225 BRIARCLIFF PLACE

2204 PEACHTREE RD. 8th floor, $25.00.

8 COLLIER ROAD

Janitor on Premises.

G. G. SHIPP WA. 8372. Day, Elmwood 1534, Nights.

THE CHATHAM COURT 690 PIEDMONT AVE.—In flat block north of Ponce de Leon Ave. By the corner of Peachtree and Chatham. Large, modern, well-constructed, 2nd floor, 2 bedrooms, large apartments, large rooms and porches, garages; perfect light and ventilation, always comfortable; special individual attention to each apartment. Occupant Section. 1. References requested. Geo. M. Taylor, owner. HE. 0302-W.

FOR LEASE—In the Colonial, north side, North Ave., between Peachtree and Juniper. Large, modern, 2nd floor, 2 bedrooms, large, large apartments, large rooms and porches, garages; perfect light and ventilation, always comfortable; special individual attention to each apartment. Occupant Section. 1. References requested. Geo. M. Taylor, owner. HE. 0302-W.

131 FORREST AVE., N. E. RIDLEY COURT TWO TO FIVE ROOMS WA. 7416.

SEMINOLE APARTMENTS 1140-50 NORTH AVE., 3 and 4 rooms, $45 to $50, including Frigidaire, open porch, A/C. condition. Mr. Wayne, Day WA. 2162, Night HE. 2162.

131 FORREST AVE., N. E.—Three-room, entirely private, $25. or 2 rooms.

N. K. KREMER—Furnished 2-room apt., all rooms. HE. 1135-R.

ROOM and kitchenette, private bath, $15. 692 Queen St., HE. 0049-J.

ATTRACTIVE apt., com. heat, lights, every con., rent. MA. 7348.

MODERN 2 and 3-room apts., rent. 997 Birkland View. HE. 3565-W.

Apartments, Unfurnished 74A

HAVE YOU SEEN Our Beautiful Collier Road Apartments?

The Westchester, 18 Collier Road The Wiltshire, 20 Collier Road The Highview, 28 and 30 Collier Road

HIGH TYPE PLANS, elaborate apts., large floor plans, selected persons, adults only. Exclusive location.

5 AND 5 ROOMS EACH.

YOU should find what you want here at a reasonable rent.

SALMON REALTY CO., 1004 Piedmont, Georgia Park at 12th St. HE. 4708-4707.

WHY NOT LIVE IN DECATUR?

COOL and quiet. Reduced rates. $50.00 to $65.00, including garage, refrigeration and porches. The Stamford Apartments, 221 N. Candler street. See Resident Manager.

RANKIN-WHITTEN REALTY COMPANY, Realtors 61 Forsyth, N. W. WA. 0636

NORTH PARK

606 Briarcliff Rd., N. E.

SPACIOUS 7-room apts., delightfully located opposite Piedmont Park. 3 bedrooms, full size dining room, living room, sun parlor. Apt. 3, $85; Apt. 5 and 14, $85.

BRIARCLIFF MANOR

606 Briarcliff Rd., N. E.

A FINE and beautiful setting; each unit has living room, sun parlor, bedroom; also Murphy bed, dining room, kitchen, electric range and garage. Papered wall, parquet floors. Apt. 1 and 10, $90.

CALL MRS. CORBIN, JA. 5414-J.

RANKIN-WHITTEN REALTY CO., WA. 0636 61 Forsyth St., N. W.

See the New

HUNTINGTON APARTMENTS

1765 PEACHTREE RD.

FOUR and five rooms. Several units for your selection. Agent on premises daily.

BURDETT REALTY CO. Walnut 1011

THE BRIARY

2260 PEACHTREE ROAD

ON SEPTEMBER 1ST, we will have available the beautiful new building, 5-story corner apartments, 3 exposures, large open front porch, spacious grounds, every modern convenience. Representative on premises daily. Personally owned and supervised.

Fitzhugh Knox & Sons

809 Noris Bldg. WA. 0647

MORELAND COURT

678 Moreland Ave., N. E.

APTS. Nos. 2 and 6—Five rooms, sun parlor, immediate possession. Call WA. 1600.

Hallman-Whitten Co.

APARTMENTS

WE HAVE available in our personally owned and supervised apartments, located in choice residential section of the North side, units from 2 to 6 rooms, all equipped with modern refrigerators.

Fitzhugh Knox & Sons

809 Noris Bldg. WA. 0647

Business Places for Rent 75A

WYNDHAM COURTS APPTS.

635-45 NORTH HIGHLAND AVE., com.

6-8 rooms, modern, large, open front porch, spacious grounds, every modern convenience. Representative on premises daily. Personally owned and supervised.

Fitzhugh Knox & Sons

WA. 8047 809 Noris Bldg.

FINE for GROCER or DRY CLEANER.

61 Piedmont Ave., next corner 8th St.

REAL ESTATE LOAN CO.

70 Spring St., N. W. WA. 0625

WE HAVE available in our personally owned and supervised apartments, located in choice residential section of the North side, units from 2 to 6 rooms, all equipped with modern refrigerators.

Fitzhugh Knox & Sons

809 Noris Bldg. WA. 0647

Copyright, 1936, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Real Estate

Brokers in Real Estate

ADAMS-CATES CO. WA. 5477

DRAPER-OWENS CO. WA. 5657

HAAS-HOWELL CO. WA. 5211

GRANGER & CO. WA. 5200

SHARP & BOYDTON WA. 2080

REAL ESTATE LOAN CO.

418 Candler Bldg. Realtors WA. 3925

WA. 0625

YOUNG PILOT HELD IN BOMBING RAID

Circumstantial Evidence Points to Guilt of Illinoisian.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., Aug. 12.—(P)—Circumstantial evidence tonight pointed to the young Illinoisian arrested today in connection with Monday's air raid on the Providence, Ky., coal mining district in which nine bombs were dropped from a mystery plane. Authorities indicated other arrests were in prospect.

In jail here to await extradition to Kentucky to face a felony warrant is 19-year-old James K. Phifer, a local aviator arrested today in connection with Monday's air raid on the Providence, Ky., coal mining district in which nine bombs were dropped from a mystery plane. Authorities indicated other arrests were in prospect.

Phifer, 23, a dairyman's son, was questioned late today by Sheriff Flanagan and told him he drove Montgomery and the two girls to the flying field shortly before dawn after they had attended a party. Montgomery, Phifer said, flew away with another who was roughly dressed and carried a sack. Phifer insisted he did not know the passenger's name.

Canine War Hero
Dies in Massachusetts

WARE, Mass., Aug. 12.—(P)—The gates of Valhalla swung wide today to admit another good soldier, a four-year-old dog.

Old Cap, or Captain as he was more popularly known, is dead, at the age of 15, a ripe old age for a dog who bore the wounds of French battlefields and in his lungs the searing burns of gas.

Cap, a wire-haired griffon, served during the world war and distinguished himself in the service. It was his duty, and he performed it well, to seek out in the tangle of barbed wire and gaping shell holes his wounded two-legged comrades.

Way Clear for Bromley
To Make Pacific Hop

TOKYO, Aug. 12.—(P)—All official obstacles to the projected non-stop flight from New York to Japan, aviator from Tokyo to Tacoma, Wash., were removed as the result of a consultation today with the government aviation bureau to which Edwin L. Neville, American charge d'affaires, accompanied the aviator.

Permit was given. Bromley to use either the commercial airport at Tachikawa or that of the naval air station at Kasumigaura. Maps were provided and facilities offered.

Bromley also was given permission to fly his plane from Yokohama, where it is being assembled, to the airfield selected.

When you think of Foot Correction think
Dr. PARKER'S HEALTH SHOES
116 ARCADE — JACKSON 4697

Publisher Dies

MAJOR STAHLMAN TAKEN BY DEATH

Veteran Nashville Publisher
Succumbs at 87—Funeral Today.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 12.—(P)—Death today closed the picturesque career of Edward Bushrod Stahlman, crusading journalist of the old school.

The 87-year-old dean of American newspaper publishers succumbed at his home after an illness of more than a year, leaving behind him the romantic record of the rise of a crippled boy from railroad day laborer to railroad executive and publisher of the Nashville Banner.

From over the nation telegrams of condolence came to his family throughout the day. Tomorrow the Banner will publish only one edition in order that all employees may attend funeral services at 2:30 p. m. at the McAdoo Methodist church.

Aided Many in Need.

In the transportation, as well as in the newspaper field, Mr. Stahlman achieved remarkable success. As a member of a railroad construction gang, he rose to the vice presidency of the Louisville and Nashville railroad and of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railway (the Monon route), and also served as commission agent for Southern Steamship and Railway lines. He declined offers of the presidency of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and the general management of the Santa Fe system.

In 1885 Mr. Stahlman acquired the Nashville Banner and before long had the paper in the thick of many heated political and business fights, some, some not, but each waged through a period of nearly half a century with characteristic determination despite threats against his life.

On one occasion he was shot and wounded, but not as the result of his journalistic campaigns. It was while he was traveling auditor for the Southern Express company in 1878 that a disgruntled employee fired a pistol at him at Shelbyville, Tenn.

The bullet penetrated a ledger at which he was working and entered his left arm, leaving it permanently injured.

Thomas Mahan died instantly and William Hallett died at St. Louis hospital shortly after he was moved from the wreckage. The missing man is Thomas Sullivan, believed to have been buried in the tons of debris. At least three of the injured were in a critical condition.

All of the men caught in the blast were working near-by. Police estimated the damage would be in excess of $1,000,000.

Thomas Mahan died instantly and William Hallett died at St. Louis hospital shortly after he was moved from the wreckage. The missing man is Thomas Sullivan, believed to have been buried in the tons of debris. At least three of the injured were in a critical condition.

At the age of 10 he came to the United States with his parents from Germany, where he was born. Between 1870 and 1875 he worked for his father a short time later assumed the responsibility of helping to care for his mother and his brothers and sisters.

Retired Last Year.

Unable because of an accident in boyhood that left him crippled for life to become a minister during the Civil War, he took a job with a railroad construction gang, but soon became a clerkship and continued to climb. As a railroad executive Mr. Stahlman was given the title of "Major" by his associates and this clung to him through life. To every one he was known as "The Major."

Until the spring of last year he was in his office daily, although overwork had forced his retirement a few years earlier. He had placed his grandson, James G. Stahlman, in charge of the newspaper, publishers succumbed at his home after an illness of more than a year, leaving behind him the romantic record of the rise of a crippled boy from railroad day laborer to railroad executive and publisher of the Nashville Banner.

From over the nation telegrams of condolence came to his family throughout the day. Tomorrow the Banner will publish only one edition in order that all employees may attend funeral services at 2:30 p. m. at the McAdoo Methodist church.

Aided Many in Need.

In the transportation, as well as in the newspaper field, Mr. Stahlman achieved remarkable success. As a member of a railroad construction gang, he rose to the vice presidency of the Louisville and Nashville railroad and of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railway (the Monon route), and also served as commission agent for Southern Steamship and Railway lines. He declined offers of the presidency of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and the general management of the Santa Fe system.

In 1885 Mr. Stahlman acquired the Nashville Banner and before long had the paper in the thick of many heated political and business fights, some, some not, but each waged through a period of nearly half a century with characteristic determination despite threats against his life.

On one occasion he was shot and wounded, but not as the result of his journalistic campaigns. It was while he was traveling auditor for the Southern Express company in 1878 that a disgruntled employee fired a pistol at him at Shelbyville, Tenn.

The bullet penetrated a ledger at which he was working and entered his left arm, leaving it permanently injured.

The bandsits — three white men — drove up in a touring car and accosted Stamps, one of them jumping to the sidewalk and threatening him with a pistol. When Stamps refused to give the pistol seriously he was ordered to get in the car and, finally, on his persistent refusal to fall in with any of the bandsits' plans, the one with the pistol struck him. Stamps, knocked down by the force of the blow, immediately raised an outcry which attracted the attention of neighbors and caused the bandsits to make a hurried departure.

The man who struck him was about 18 years old, wore a straw hat and a light-colored suit of clothes. Stamps told Call Officers Floyd and Bailey. He was not able to furnish a description of the other two.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—The state department today made public a series of questions from President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.

Ward, in a day of probing into numbers of fraud and corruption in the June 7 democratic primary. Party leaders, never having been investigated, took the affair in high good humor. They enjoyed it. That rather handicapped Ward.

"I don't find anything out of the way in the Ward," he said, "and I'll probably be leaving in a day or two."

Democratic leaders here and in Raleigh said the Ward will meet to these parts an effort of the national republican party to lend state republicans ammunition for the November elections.

Hoover Felicitates
Von Hindenburg

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(P)—

President Hoover to President von Hindenburg, of Germany, on the occasion of the eleventh anniversary of Germany's adoption of the Weimar constitution.

"On this anniversary which the people of Germany are celebrating today, I take pleasure in tendering to your excellency cordial greetings. I also offer personal assurances of my own high regard," President Hoover's message said.